HOOVER ASKS CONGRESS ALLOW REORGANIZATION OF EXECUTIVE BRANCH

Sends Special Message To Congress—Says Millions Could Be Saved

Says Ruinous Waste Could Be Eliminated If Power Is Given Him

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Hoover moved today to persuade congress to give him power to reorganize the executive branch of the government at will. Given proper authority, he promised to eliminate ruinous waste and save millions annually.

In a special message to congress, he outlined a partial plan of reorganization for immediate approval and asked for further broad power to effect additional transfers of authority and consolidations by executive order.

Mr. Hoover proposed, however, as a congressional check-rein—that all future realignments of administrative authority be made by congress first should be before congress for sixty days and then become effective "unless congress shall request suspension of action."

President's Suggestions

Specifically, the president suggested:

1. Consolidation of the millions of dollars worth of construction work undertaken annually by the various federal departments into a new office to be known as "public works administrator";

2. Incorporation of the vast amount of personnel administration into one office headed by a "personnel administrator," with the civil service commission remaining in an advisory capacity to that agent;

3. Transfer of the administrative functions of running the American Merchant Marine to the Department of Commerce under direction of a new assistant secretary, maintaining the U. S. shipping board as a quasi judicial, regulatory body;

4. Creation of a new assistant (Continued On Page Seven)

Liu Lu-Ying, Member Of Executive Council Says "Protection Is Up To China"

CLAIMS JAPAN IS AGGRESSOR

Declares Japan Can Show Sincerity By Withdrawing From Shanghai

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 17.—Through Liu Lu-Ying, member of the Chinese executive council, China today replied to the statement of Japanese Minister of War Araki that Japan was citing in Shanghai to protect foreign lives and property.

"The protection of foreign lives and property in Shanghai is China's duty, not Japan's. That protection is now needed due to the Japanese aggression."

Japan is Aggressor.

"Japan can cease jeopardizing foreigners by ceasing its artillery and aerial bombardments."

Recounting the incidents leading up to the present conflict, Liu Yu-Ying charged Japan was the aggressor and now is attempting to throw dust in the eyes of the world.

Despite China's willingness to have peace, he said, "Japan has laid bare her imperialistic designs and has continued to carry on war and aggression."

The Chinese statesman concluded by declaring that Japanese sincerity could be proved only by the withdrawal of Japanese forces from Shanghai.

Commissioners Have Not Definitely Decided As To Material To Be Used

County commissioners are having plans prepared by T. A. Gilkey for two bridges to be erected at Volant during the present year. One of the bridges is to span the Neshannock creek and the other the millrace, west of the Neshannock. The present structures are covered bridges, and are said to be in bad condition. The plans will be prepared for both steel and concrete, as it has not yet been decided which will be built. Concrete has the advantage of not requiring paint. Decision as to the kind of a bridge will be made when the estimates are ready.

Former Indiana Sheriff Confesses After Sensational Effort At Escape

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ind., Feb. 17.—Police today announced that Ira Barton, former sheriff of Blackford county, has confessed to participation in three bank robberies which occurred while he held office.

The confession, according to authorities, was obtained in the county jail last night a few hours after Barton made a sensational, but abortive, attempt to escape by clubbing a deputy sheriff who was guarding him.

Barton is now on trial, charged with conspiring with four gunmen to rob a bank at Dunkirk.

Seven Hundred Men To Return To Mine Work

To Reopen Frick Mines In Connellsville Area At Once

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 17.—Seven hundred men will be returned to work at the Davidson and Trotter mines of the A. C. Frick Coke Company here, it was announced today through a leasing arrangement calling for reopening of the mines at once.

Both operations were leased to the newly-formed Yough-Connelville Coal and Coke Corporation, which will mine 4,000 tons of coal daily. Arrangements for purchase of the output by the North American Fuel Corporation, of Cleveland, have been completed, it was announced by F. E. Tatlin, chairman of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railroad and president of the Cleveland fuel firm.

All coal mined will be shipped over the Connellsville branch of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia, opened just a year ago today. The Davidson mine has been idle since 1923 and the Trotter operation since 1929.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Belief that Elizabeth Barrett Cook, 20, was murdered and was not a suicide, held in two corners of the world, awaited the arrival of the steamship Chinese Prince late today or tomorrow.

St. George Arnold, the fiance of the dead girl, insists she did not commit suicide. He declares she was murdered in her stateroom aboard the British liner as the vessel trundled leisurely toward America and Elizabeth Barrett Cook's bridal. Today he declared his belief the girl took her death potion unknowingly.

Authorities Agree?

That the British authorities agree with him was indicated by an order issued by them and wireless to Captain Horace Uncles of the Chinese prince that St. George Arnold and his counsel be allowed to see the hoax message announcing Arnold's alleged death.

The British foreign office is tremendously interested in that message, so interested that officials have requested the state department of the United States make photostatic copies of it and forward it by the fastest medium to Gibraltar, where Elizabeth died, so it may be studied.

Pennsylvania Paid Eighteen Times As Much To Federal Government As Aid Returned

By ARTHUR C. WIMER

Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17.—Pennsylvania paid into federal vaults in the fiscal year of 1931 more than 18 times as much money as the state got from Uncle Sam as federal aid, according to figures presented to congress by Senator Hiram Bingham, Republican of Connecticut.

Of the total internal revenue collected by the Keystone state for the fiscal year, 7.32 per cent came from the federal government. Of the total state expenditures by the federal government, on the other hand, only 4.84 per cent went to Pennsylvania. Three states—Illinois, New York and North Carolina—paid more federal taxes than Pennsylvania. Only one state—Texas—received more financial help from Uncle Sam than did the Keystone state.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 17.—Victims of shrapnel wounds received while guarding British property along the Hongkew wharf in the international settlement here, E. T. Francis and H. C. Pryor, sailors of the British navy, died in a military hospital here tonight.

Francis succumbed to his wounds shortly after the shell crashed into the settlement and scattered its deadly load of shrapnel. Pryor died several hours later.

The fatal shell was one of six from Chinese guns aimed at Japanese warships. Two of them exploded dangerously near British steamers, although no damage was caused by these.

Foreign consular officials immediately expressed grave concern over the affair.

Foreign concern over the affair, with the death of the wounded sailors a few hours later indicated a serious international complication. E. T. Francis was a seaman who first succumbed to injuries. H. G. Pryor, the other wounded sailor staged a brave fight for life, but lost. They were members of the guard of H. M. S. Suffolk.

Both Japanese and Chinese guns were booming when the stray shell struck the sailors.

Between 45 and 50 shells from the guns of both sides fell within the settlement limits in all, many of them in areas guarded by United States fourth marines.

Seven Chinese were known to have been killed, and at least 22 injured.

During the afternoon, after the fatal firing, both sides let down on hostilities, and with the exception of intermittent artillery firing, both the Woosung and Chapel fronts were quiet.

Federal Reserve Measure Taken Up By Senate Today

Senate Rushes Enactment Of Bill To Liberalize Federal Reserve Structure

HOPE FOR APPROVAL SOMETIME TODAY

Direct Relief Bill Is Defeated Along With All Substitute Bills

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—After rejecting all proposals for extending direct federal relief to the unemployed, the Senate today rushed enactment of the Glass-Steagall bill, designed to liberalize the federal reserve structure while releasing a fresh flood of credit throughout the national banking system.

Administration leaders hoped to secure the senate's approval of the bill before nightfall. It must then go to conference to iron the differences between the House and Senate, since the two bills differ slightly.

Insurgents Comparing
The administration's haste in enacting the banking relief measure gave the insurgents an opportunity to compare that sentiment with the senate's refusal to provide direct relief for the unemployed. Every effort to appropriate federal funds to aid the states and local communities in aiding the jobless was defeated.

The La Follette-Costigan bill with its $750,000,000 appropriation divided between direct relief and contributions for building rural postroads, was beaten by a vote of 35 to 48. The insurgents and 19 Democrats supported the measure while the administration ranks and 21 conservative Democrats voted against it.

Sub Bill Defeated
Every substitute measure was beaten too. In the course of several days, the senate not only rejected direct relief but refused to authorize loans to the states, contributions for the building of postroads and various appropriations for public construction. The treasury deficit apparently beat most of these proposals.

There was little controversy in the senate over the Glass-Steagall bill, aside from insurgent opposition to the government passing so many measures designed to aid the banks. In its present form, the senate bill would differ in only two important particulars from the measure passed Monday by the house. Both relate to the provisions authorizing federal banks to make loans to member banks on good collateral.

Slight Difference.
The senate bill would limit loans to individual banks having less than $500,000 capital. The house put no limitation on them. In conference, a compromise limiting such loans to banks having a capital of $2,000,000 or less, will be adopted. Senator Glass (D) of Virginia, author of the bill, said such a provision would provide relief for all but 136 national banks.

The senate will adopt a new provision on loans to groups of member banks. The house authorized group loans providing such loans have no adequate assets of eligible and acceptable assets to obtain sufficient accommodation through discounting at the federal reserve bank. The senate will permit such loans, even if some of the borrowing banks have rediscountable collateral, but will prohibit the "good" banks from using the borrowed funds. The whole section was designed solely to aid banks with restricted credit.

Aside from these provisions, both house and senate will agree on authorizing the federal reserve board to accept "direct obligations of the United States" from federal reserve banks either for rediscout or for issuance of currency. There was no disagreement over this provision, even though some critics have charged it will launch a period of inflation.

Husband Badly Beaten

The officers on reaching the Fusco home, found the husband in a terribly beaten condition. The central police station was notified and Officers M. J. Young, D. J. Thomas and Ray Showalter rushed to the scene. Officers Thomas and Showalter took the injured man to the hospital, while the others sought his assailant.

Mrs. Fusco informed the officers that about three o'clock, Sanchj, who had roomed at their home at one time, entered the bedroom, having crawled up on a porch roof and gained entrance to the room. He stated that he would kill both of them as he attacked Fusco with a chair, which he broke up in assaulting Fusco. Mrs. Fusco managed to get out and get the police and the assailant escaped before the police arrived.

Sanchj is about thirty years of age, five feet eleven inches in height, weighs 150 pounds, has black mustache and was wearing a dark suit and dark soft hat. He was employed as a section hand on the P. R. R. at Wampum and has money coming to him. Since leaving the Fusco home he has been residing with Joe Russo 108 South Wayne street. He is said to have a blue steel automatic revolver in his possession.

tion revealed he had had a series of conferences with Stimson, and that Stimson is a remained adamant, refusing to give into arguments Debusch set forth.

Despite this word of another warning from the western powers, Japan continued with her plans. The foreign office instructed Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister to China, and Lieut. Gen. Uyeda, commanding the Japanese army in Shanghai, to deliver an ultimatum to General Tsai Ting-Kai, in command of the Chinese 19th army, demanding his withdrawal at least 20 kilometers (about 13 miles) from the boundaries of the international settlement.

The ultimatum is to be delivered within a week, giving the Chinese 24 hours from the time of delivery in which to act. If they refuse, the Japanese will reply with force.

At the same time an ultimatum will be served to Mayor Wu Te-Chen reminding him that the Japanese demands of January 28 were not fulfilled.

This second ultimatum left a road open to possible negotiations, in which it was said Japan would not object to having representatives of other powers concerned participate, in an attempt to persuade the Chinese to leave the settlement boundaries.

The Japanese ultimatum will not apply to the forces under General Chiang Kai-Shek. It was aimed only at the divisions "attacking" Shanghai. Meanwhile an official government reply was awaited to the note sent to Tokyo by the League of Nations council of 12, couched in the strongest terms in the history of the league, warning Japan regarding her treaty obligations and those listed under Article X of the league covenant.

The note, given to Naotake Sato, Japanese representative to the league, for dispatch to his government, was addressed solely to Japan, and accusing only her. The note backed China's position in that, for the first time during the Shanghai conflict, the league did not warn her along with Japan.

Evangelistic Services In First Baptist Church Are Of Unusual Attractiveness

"The worst Baptist in New Castle is the person who insists loudly with his lips upon the necessity of immersion, but who fails to walk in newness of life," declared Pastor George M. Landis last night in the First Baptist church. "The sinner's world revolves around the axis of self, the Christian's world revolves around the axis of Christ," was one of the points which the speaker illustrated by a diagram in colored crayons.

Following Mr. Landis' message, a clear and forceful gospel address was given by Godfrey Coombs of Hamilton, Ontario. Mr. Coombs set forth the incomparable message of John 3:16 in a manner well calculated to lead the sinner to a personal acceptance of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Mrs. Paul D. Weller impressively sang "He Was Wounded," and a special number was rendered by the choir. Prayer was offered by Messrs. Mahloy and Andrews of Pittsburgh and Aliquippa. This evening the pastor will show colored lantern slides on gospel subjects, they being cartoons by Dr. E. J. Pace, the celebrated gospel cartoonist. Thursday the message will be in the form of a gospel dialogue conducted by Mr. Landis and Pastor Hiram H. VanCleave. Friday night a chalk talk will be given on the subject "A Shelter in the Time of Storm." Owen Penfield Fox, the local artist, will do the sketching, and Mr. Landis will speak. All meetings at 7:30. Prayer is held at 7 o'clock each evening in the pastor's study.

fighting in Shanghai today threw Whitehall into a furor. Official comment was withheld pending receipt of complete details from British authorities at Shanghai.

The situation was considered so grave Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald left the nursing home in which he was recovering from a recent operation upon his eye and arrived at No. 10 Downing street shortly before 11:00 a. m.

Wearing a black patch over his eye, the Premier appeared pale and worried. He presided over a cabinet meeting which began immediately a discussion of the Shanghai situation and prepared to draw up instructions for Sir John Simon, foreign minister, to take to Geneva with him tomorrow.

British government spokesmen insisted, however, no action would be taken by this country pending Japan's reply to the latest note despatched by the League of Nations council at Tokyo.

Meanwhile, it was learned, Japan has "entered a number of technical objections to the assembly meeting on juridical grounds which must be examined before the assembly is called."

The objections, however, were construed merely as an effort by Japan to play for time.

Protest Made

(International News Service)
Shanghai, Feb. 17.—British consular authorities here tonight lodged a strong protest with Chinese officials over the death of E. T. Francis and H. C. Pryor, British seamen struck by sharpnel from Chinese guns while on duty in the Hongkew area of the international settlement.

While naval officers and ratings were highly indignant over the incident, the British community was mainly ignorant of the tragedy and will not learn of it until publication of tomorrow's newspapers.

Residents who were informed of the killings and questioned expressed regrets, although few were inclined to blame the Chinese as much as the Japanese, who have been using that section of the settlement for the landing of troops, mooring of warships and billeting of soldiers, thus drawing Chinese shellfire.

"Helen James" is the object of the greatest interest to Scotland Yard. Arnold was neither hesitant nor reserved in declaring the woman who was to become his wife next Sunday was the victim of foul play. From his sweetheart's knowledge of her habits and her needs he declared today there was no necessity for the presence in her cabin of the synthetic German drug, found in a phial half-emptied in her cabin.

Elizabeth, he declared, did not use drugs in any form. He insisted the narcotic and the rectified ether found in her cabin at the time of her death must have been placed there by some person who knew the reactions which would ensue from her belief that her fiancé was dead.

The British secret service agrees with him. The service has issued no statement as to the identity of the person or persons they suspect but they are working on well-established clues.

MOTHER TOLD TO KEEP BOY AT HOME

William Trabucci, a small boy whose home is in the Cherry Hill district, was found about 1:40 o'clock this morning on the second floor of the Greer building. He had been stopping persons and crying, while trying to sell newspapers. He was turned over to his mother with instructions to keep him off the street at that hour of night. He had four newspapers when found.

CLOSE RACE FOR IRISH PRESIDENT

would rest with the voters of the seven Letrim-Sligo divisions, who will go to the polls March 3.

Total Vote Delayed.
The election in these divisions was postponed as the result of the murdering of a candidate in the recent campaign, one of the most turbulent in Ireland's history. One campaign worker was slain and assassination of another was attempted.

Ninety-five per cent of the electorate turned out yesterday, mute evidence of the heights to which the populace was stirred.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Catherine Heyl
Mrs. Catherine Heyl, aged 87 years and eight months, widow of Henry Heyl, passed away Tuesday night at 10:35 at her home in Prospect.

Mrs. Heyl was born in Pittsburgh in the year 1844. She is survived by the following children: Della, Grace, J. P., F. B., and H. C. of Prospect; Mrs. Henry B. Beighley, of New Castle; R. G. Heyl, of Tyrone, Pa.; and Mrs. William Milne of Greensburg, one sister, Mrs. Margaret Snyder, of Butler, six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. at the Lutheran church in Prospect. Interment in the Crown Hill cemetery.

David M. Hall.
David M. Hall, aged 79, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of the Newport district, died Tuesday at 4 p. m. in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Esther Blatchford, after a short illness.

He was a member of the Newport Methodist church and had lived in the community all his life.

Mr. Hall is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Bessie Bohman of Wampum, Mrs. Clara Park of New Castle and Mrs. Esther Blatchford of Newport, and a son, Herman Hall of Wampum.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at 2 p. m. from the John Blatchford residence, with Rev. William Fenton officiating. Interment will be made in the Newport cemetery.

Miss McCormick's Funeral.
Funeral services for the late Miss Mary McCormick were held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Katherine McConaghy of 217 North Mulberry street, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Rev. P. C. Pearson in charge. The pallbearers were Louis McConaghy, Howard, Norris and Ellis Bowles, Richard Forster and Paul F. Butz. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Mr. Betler's Funeral.
The funeral services for Hugo Julius Betler were held from his late residence in East Lackawanna township, Mercer county, Pa., Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. John Charles Paul in charge. The pallbearers were William Shannon, James Osborne, John Hawthorne, George McCoy, Charles Ramsey and William Cox. Interment was made in Mercer cemetery.

Mrs. A. J. Shifflet.
Mrs. Clara Mack Shifflet, aged 53, wife of A. J. Shifflet, 17 West North street, died Tuesday at 3:25 p. m. after a long illness.

Mrs. Shifflet was born in Spencerville, O., May 19, 1878, the daughter of Charles and Sara Parker Mack, and she had lived in New Castle the past 30 years.

She was a member of the Mahoning Methodist church.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, Dewey, Arlie and Wilmer; one daughter, Mrs. Leroy Varley, all of New Castle; four sisters, Mrs. S. H. Booher of New Castle, Mrs. Fred Station of Seville, O., Mrs. A. J. Rodgers of Alliance, O., and Mrs. Harry Boyles of Cleveland, O., and two brothers, J. C. Mack of Canton, O., and Lee Mack of Sebring, O., and her mother, Mrs. John Mullen of Alliance, O.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at 3 p. m. from the home of her son, Arlie Shifflet, 149 Miller avenue. Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

James Rogan Funeral.
Funeral services for James Rogan, West Grant street, were held this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church with Rev. Fr. Waterson officiating at the funeral mass.

Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, with Jack Hannon, William Gilboy, William Joyce, Thomas Gilboy, Michael O'Brien and William Llewellyn as pallbearers.

Mrs. Fisher Funeral.
Funeral services for Mrs. Frank C. Fisher, Rose Point, were held Tuesday afternoon from the Oak Grove U. P. church with Rev. Frank C. Black officiating, assisted by Rev. L. W. Greenlee, pastor of the Princeton Presbyterian church; Rev. George Cheeseman of the Portersville Presbyterian church and Dr. E. A. Crooks of the New Castle Reformed Presbyterian church.

The friends of the deceased filled the church and church yard in their effort to hear the last worldly rites for one whom they had called friend and who had been so actively engaged in all matters of the church. The beauty and abundance of the floral tributes were a further testimony to the splendid qualities of Mrs. Fisher.

Members of the session of the Oak Grove church bore the body to its last resting place in the family plot in the Rose Point cemetery.

ERIE MAN HELD IN Five-Year Theft

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Feb. 17.—Charged with a five-year old theft, Orwin Wright, a carpenter, was held by police here today.

Wright was taken into custody on charges filed by Mrs. Howard Rowe, who alleged she traced to Wright a diamond ring stolen from her in 1927. Detectives said they recovered the ring from a man who loaned Wright $17 upon it about five years ago.

Wright was to be given a hearing before Alderman Eugene Alberstadt today.

British Cabinet In Conference On Shanghai Battle

British Officials Take Up Discussion Of Far Eastern Situation

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 17.—The British cabinet went into session today at No. 10 Downing street to discuss the Shanghai situation.

The meeting was presided over by Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, who went to it directly from a nursing home against the advice of his doctors.

The premier is recovering from an eye operation.

"Newspaper reports tell of shells landing in the settlement daily. One of these days those shells are going to cause horrible damage. Every minute longer our nationals remain there increases the danger of our being embroiled in the conflict."

"I cannot understand why the administration runs the risk of permitting American civilians to remain there. There is no excuse for it and this administration will be responsible if any American lives are lost."

In the Statue of Liberty, New York harbor, the number of steps from the base of the foundation to the top of the torch is 463.

JUNIOR B. P. W'S. ENTERTAIN GRADUATES

Members of the Junior Business and Professional Women's Club entertained at a delightful party Tuesday evening members of the mid-year graduating class of the New Castle high school at an evening tea in the green room of the Y. W. C. A.

The guests gathered at an early hour, and at eight o'clock the activities were in progress. Miss Grace Sankey, president, presided, and introduced those taking part on the program, which follows: vocal solo by Betty Houston with Miss Garnet Aey at the piano; dance and readings by Agnes Montgomery and Florence Stickle, with Nellie Brady at piano; reading by Gladys Nord; duet by Alice Mitchell and Kathryn Preston; recitation by Betty Jane Cope.

Following the entertainment tea was served to approximately 30 guests. Miss Sankey and Jane Weddell poured. The tea table was attractively decorated in tones suggestive of the season, the center being graced with a bowl of select flowers guarded by tall tapers in crystal holders.

The next regular meeting of the members will be held on March 3 at the Y. W. C. A.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY PLANS COLONIAL PARTY

All plans are in readiness for what is anticipated to be an unusually entertaining party, when members of the V. F. W. Auxiliary entertain their members and husbands at a "colonial" tureen dinner Thursday evening in the Legion Home. This affair will be in celebration of the Washington bi-centennial and will be in progress at 6 o'clock.

Following the dinner a program will be presented.

Watt-Miller Wedding

Announcement has been made of the wedding of Helen Louise Watt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watt, Melrose avenue, and William G. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Frank avenue.

The couple was married Saturday afternoon in Butler, and will make their home in New Castle.

COLONIAL TEA MARKS PROGRAM

A large group of women from the Third United Presbyterian church was delightfully entertained at a Colonial Tea in the parlors of the church Tuesday evening with the members of the L. D. K. Missionary society as hostesses.

A program of entertainment began with Mrs. Charlotte Emery playing a march, after which Dorothy Miller gave a splendid resume of the life of George Washington. A pretty tableau depicted a minuteman of long ago, and as Mrs. S. B. Cope land gave an interpretation in dance steps.

Miss Eva Wimer gave a humorous reading "George Washington" and the playlet "Happiness Day" was presented, with Mrs. Ruth Gibson taking the part of George Washington; Annabelle Rogers as Nellie Custis; Laura Mooney as the negro servant and Mrs. Marie Burdette as the negro maid.

After some group singing the group was invited to the dining room, where small tables were cleverly decorated with a block of wood and small axe, representing the famous "cherry tree" story. The members who served were dressed in colonial gowns and had powdered wigs.

SPAGHETTI DINNER EVENING AFFAIR

A delightful event of Tuesday evening was the spaghetti dinner given in the dining room of the First United Presbyterian church, when the members of the Evening Willing Workers class, taught by Mrs. Scott McCaslin entertained the members of Tom Hartman's class and Beulah James, Catherine Winter and Myrtle Preston.

Crystal and snow were effectively used in beautifying the table where places were arranged for thirty-eight. Mrs. Roy Hughes prepared the menu, which was served by Elsie Beale, Rebecca Loudon, Marian Hughes, Virginia Schefnocker and Pearl McClure.

A period of games and entertainment followed dinner, with Miss Mary Hughes giving a number of readings, and Bruce Ewing leading in a grand march.

An appropriate "finis" was in order when the young men were invited to take off their coats and adjourn to the kitchen, where they enjoyed a splendid example of dishwashing for the young ladies.

Jokers Club Meets.

The regular meeting of the Jokers club was held at the home of Mrs. George Wendt, on the Wilmington road, Tuesday evening. Tables of 500 formed the diversion, prizes going to Mrs. Robert Clark and Margaret O'Connell for capturing honors. Special guests present were Mrs. Joseph Dannel and Mrs. John Jennings, the latter who won the guest token.

At a late hour the hostess served a dainty repast on the individual tables which had been re-arranged in tones of red and white. They departed, agreeing to meet again in two weeks with Miss Elizabeth Isaac on Reynolds street.

Nous A Mon Girls

Members of the Nous A Mon Girls club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ella Nowling, Epworth street.

The evening was spent at cards and high scores were held by Mrs. Bernetta Milke and Mrs. Luella McDewitt, for which they were awarded prizes.

Special guests were Mrs. M. Clarke, Mrs. E. Pargen and Mrs. G. Ferree. Refreshments were served by the hostess before the guests left for their homes, to meet again March 2 in the home of Mrs. Ethel Thomas, County Line street.

Tri-Quad Club

The Tri-Quad Bridge Club members will be entertained at the home of Miss Lucille Emery, on Laurel avenue Thursday evening instead of Wednesday as planned.

Illustrated Lecture Given By Garden Club

One of the most successful meetings held in the history of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs took place Tuesday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium with members of the Garden Club presiding as hostesses. The reception committee comprising officers of this group, namely, Mrs. W. C. Eckenrode, Mrs. Russell Allen, Mrs. Charles Burkhardt, Mrs. William Howley, Mrs. W. C. Kennedy, Mrs. S. D. Pearson and Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger received at the door in addition to an unusually large number of local club members, approximately 125 associates from New Bedford, Butler, Kittanning, Youngstown, O., Cleveland, O., Sharon, New Wilmington, Beaver Falls, Canfield, O., Lovellville Garden Clubs and members from different Parent-Teacher Associations throughout the county, who were their invited guests.

The program was in order at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. C. Eckenrode in charge, and was fittingly carried out in commemoration of the Washington bi-centennial celebration that is being observed throughout the country by club women.

She introduced Mrs. Jay L. Reed, pianist for the afternoon who appeared in colonial dress, the first verse of America was sung by the entire group with piano accompaniment, followed by the salute to the flag. In behalf of the Daughters of 1812, Mrs. Charles Greer read Washington's prayer.

The song "Enraptured I Gaze" one of Washington's favorites that was undoubtedly sung many times in his Mt. Vernon home by Nellie Curtis, his step-daughter, was rendered by Mrs. Burr Rodgers; and another solo that delighted the audience, "Give Me Thy Heart" was given by Mrs. William J. Caldwell. They too donned colonial frocks that reminded one of great-grandmothers time. The concluding selection was a duet "The Wayward Traveler" by the Mesdames Rogers and Caldwell, with Mrs. Reed at the piano.

The guests were next favored with group of Negro spirituals by four local colored girls, Thelma Stuart, Louise Heyer, Bernice Carter and Virginia Jones. They sang "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "It's Me," "Down by the Riverside" and "Give 'I' That Old Time Religion," revealing splendid harmony. They responded to an encore with "I Got Shoes."

Announcement was made by Mrs. Eckenrode that at a conference held last Friday with the mayor of New Castle, two past presidents and the present president of the Garden Club were appointed as the Shade Tree Committee who will function as the conservation department of the city.

SURPRISE GATHERING HONORS BIRTHDAY

A delightful surprise was tendered Mrs. Fannie Davis of Hillcrest avenue Tuesday evening when a group of friends assembled in her home for a tureen dinner as a means of celebrating her 79th birthday anniversary. A delicious menu was served from the tureens brought by the guests, and at the conclusion of this feature the hours were spent informally with chat, music and reviewing of olden times.

Visitors were Mrs. Bell Nelson and Mrs. Gertrude Vincent of Grove City. The honored one was showered with a large collection of lovely gifts by the guests as they departed in memento of the affair.

Service Star Legion

The Service Star Legion held a party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Sara Thomas on Maryland avenue as joint hostess. This occasion was in the form of a birthday party, and honored Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Ethel Bell and Mrs. Emma Campbell. Binge and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Anna Sturdy and Mrs. Lucy Williams. At the close of play, lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Garrett.

The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, March 1 at the residence of Mrs. Leon Smith, Cumberland avenue.

Art Club Meeting

The Art Club members will hold their meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Stitzinger on Winter avenue Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Jack McNeill will be leader and the subject for study will be "The Cathedral of Washington."

PIED PIPER PROGRAM IN CROTON CHURCH

The pipes of Pan were most alluring Tuesday evening as the members of the Fuller circle of the Croton Avenue Methodist church entertained their friends at a sock social.

As Miss Leona Nolan piped away, the story of the Pied Piper was given by Mrs. Harry Lackey, and the group followed as they were led over a mysterious route through all parts of the church building. Lottie Mitchell found the bag of gold at the end of a treasure hunt.

A missionary program of unusual interest was given, with Mrs. Amelia Buxton giving a puppet demonstration of a sermon after which Miss Eve Nicklin presented a playlet, "Pandora's Box," which depicted an impressive missionary story. Those taking part were Miss Nicklin, Beulah Magruder, Mary Nunn, Evelyn McClelland, Jennie Shuler, Margaret Wallace and Carman Guy.

The program, which was such a success, was arranged by Miss Nicklin, Mrs. Amelia Buxton and Mary Nunn. The evening closed with refreshments, served by Florence Cook, Dorothy Kinney and Mary Wilson.

QUEEN ESTHERS IN HAINER HOME

Miss Hester Hainer, East Lincoln avenue, received the members of the Queen Esther Auxiliary of the First Methodist church Tuesday evening in her home, with Mrs. Margaret Breono, Mrs. Ray Robinson, Mrs. J. W. Anderson, Mrs. J. D. McClelland, Mrs. Jessie Cunningham, Ellen Wood and Mrs. W. H. Shadick as associate hostesses.

Mrs. Ralph S. Reed presided and Miss Alma Locke gave a missionary book review. Mrs. Claire Brown read a paper on "Spiritual Life," after which a pleasing one-act playlet was presented by Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger, Mrs. Ray Robinson and Edith Moore.

A committee, with Mrs. M. R. Hornung as chairman, was appointed to arrange for an entertainment in March, and plans were also made for the family dinner in the church on March 15.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses during the hour of sociability.

Ever-Glad Club

Mrs. David Cox, of Butler avenue, received the Ever-Glad Club members in her home Tuesday evening. Mrs. William Nickel and Mrs. Fred Nicklin were the prize winners in the 500 contest, the main diversion. A dainty repast was served at the close of the evening by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. George Robinson of Chicago, Ill.

In two weeks Mrs. William Evans of East Lutton street will receive the club in her home.

4 NIGHT Alarm

"WAKE UP—the baby's sick!" With a start, Bill Hawley broke loose from sleep. The fear in his wife's voice and the child's wail spurred his hasty dressing.

Together they hung over the cot. "I'll run next door and telephone Dr. Pelham," Bill declared. Without hat or coat he darted away.

Anxiously he rang his neighbor's doorbell. No one stirred in the darkened house. Again he pushed the bell fiercely. Still no one answered.

In desperation, Bill started for the doctor's home. "Never again," he muttered as he hurried down the deserted street. "Never again! From now on there'll be a telephone in the house, or I'll know the reason why!"

As an everyday convenience the TELEPHONE is worth many times its low cost. In emergencies it is priceless.

LOOK THIS WAY

AN interview given out in Washington, where as director of President Hoover's campaign against hoarding he was conferring with the chief executive, Col. Frank Knox, of Chicago, made the following statement which is deserving of a place in every American newspaper:

"We are suffering from a national headache, the result of too much eyestrain watching what is going on in Europe. We cannot correct conditions in Europe. We can correct them at home. Only seven and a half per cent of our prosperity is based on Europe. The rest of it is based right here in the United States.

All of which is undoubtedly true and worthy of the consideration of every American who has confidence in the future of his country. Yet the majority of our so-called financial experts have had their faces turned to Europe for the past several months and have mournfully told us that there can be no recovery here until conditions are righted in Europe. Of course many of them are interested in Europe in a financial way and what they really want us to do is to lower our tariffs and cancel the war debts.

But every American who has studied the history of his country knows that we have progressed as far as we have, not by depending on Europe, but by blazing a path for ourselves. This has been true since the beginning of our history. If we will renew our confidence in the future of American political institutions and of American ingenuity and American business, things will begin to improve before we realize it. We have here the greatest free market in the world, one which absorbs more than ninety per cent of our production. Why worry so much about conditions across the seas? Of course we want Europe to prosper. And one of the best ways to help Europe would be to put Uncle Sam on his feet again by expressing a little confidence in his future.

When Andre Tardieu pleads to the American people for support of his plan for an international police force to enforce the decrees of the League of Nations he is laboring under a misapprehension as to why the United States is not a member of the league. He asks a non-member to pledge itself to a course which it has sought to avoid by remaining out of the league.

There has never been a popular demand among the people of the United States for affiliation with the league because they have always suspected that Uncle Sam is more in demand as an ally in time of war than as a power for peace. Europe has never succeeded in selling us on the idea that she is tired of fighting and wants to settle down.

Great though the prestige and resources of the United States may be it cannot discipline the whole world and assume responsibility for its permanent good behavior. If Mr. Tardieu's international police force, backed as it is by virtually all other world powers, cannot keep Japan and China from each other's throats, how effective would it be, even with Uncle Sam's help, in stopping a war, say between France and Germany, or Russia and the remainder of Europe?

American fighting forces are in Eastern waters now only for the protection of American lives and property and to protect treaty rights. They will continue their policy of non-interference with the peace-making prerogatives of the diplomatic service.

The American people have had enough of fighting Europe's battles, at least for this generation and the next.

THE NEW SUPREME COURT JUSTICE

The president has made an admirable choice to fill the vacancy in the Federal Supreme Court left by the retirement of Mr. Justice Holmes. In the chief justice of the New York State Court of Appeals he has found a jurist of ample qualifications, with a standing among his professional brethren such as few could rival. Justice Cardozo has held his present post of great responsibility since 1917, and in that time has made many notable decisions. The fact that he is a Democrat shows that the president did not let political considerations interfere in the performance of a grave duty.

Like the man whom he has succeeded, the new justice is a scholar, interested in metaphysics and philosophy, and capable of taking views free from excessive technicalities. He may fairly be reckoned among the liberals on the supreme bench. Though already sixty-two, he may well have a good many years of useful service before him.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

TOURIST DOLLARS

Had advocates of good roads "talked to the fool according to his folly," the nation's program of highway construction probably would have stopped right where "the fool" said, "Why build roads for tourists, they only come and go."

That is just what tourists do. They come and go, on good roads. But when they come, they bring money. And when they go, they leave money behind.

The great American vacation has created a new industry, and that industry flourishes most where roads are best.

A survey made two years ago showed nearly 26,000 hotels in the United States, with more than 1,500,000 rooms, more than 1,000,000 employees and a property valuation of more than $5,000,000,000. Their receipts this year were $1,315,000,000. Were that survey duplicated next fall it would find all these figures greatly augmented.

Last year the roadside stands garnered something more than $500,000,000. Add to the others the earnings of filling stations, garages, guides, seashore and mountain resorts, tourist homes and amusement and commercialized scenic places visited by tourists and some idea of the extent of the domestic tourist industry can be had.

While American tourists are spending $900,000,000 abroad, $300,000,000 in Canada and $46,000,000 in Mexico this year, 45,000,000 Americans will be touring the homeland and spending more than $3,500,000,000 enroute.

Why Do Women Laugh?
I Mean at Men
Maybe I Know

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Never can get over the way women treat men.

It's amusing. It's annoying. It's very upsetting.

Upsetting to the men, I mean.

Because women pity men and women laugh at the men, too. Sometimes you hear a woman wishing she were a man, that's true, and you never hear a man wishing he were a woman—but that's because men are almost always satisfied with themselves and a woman isn't so easily satisfied.

The women, all by themselves, laugh at the men. They scold them, they worry over them, they lose patience with them, they fall in love with them, they suffer because of men, their hearts break and their hearts are made happy—over men.

And when they are together talking as woman to woman about this and about that, sometimes they pour out their grievances to one another.

I know about that, because I've read fiction stories that women write, and much of the fiction we read is true.

But when they are happy together, the women swap stories about the ridiculous, absurd, childlike things that the men they know best are always doing—and the things they tell are enough to make any man restless and red in the face.

They are so unanswerable. They take all the pretense and the false dignity from a man. They make a fellow feel such a child, as if he weren't a grown up man, holding a job, doing a man's work in the world, earning a living and supporting a family and doing the best he can with the abilities he has. (Of course, they aren't so much, but a man can't be any bigger than God made him, can he? And a man has to have his little harmless weaknesses, hasn't he? Of course, he has! And then the women come along and laugh at him! And why do the women laugh?

Don't ask me—how should I know? I'm only a man and I've been laughed at, too. I've been made uncomfortable, just like other men. I've been pulled down off my High Horse and had my nose rubbed in the dust, and haven't found it any fun, either.

The only explanation I can give for the way women laugh at men is that women are the ones who bear the children and care for them and shape their lives into usefulness and strength—and since they have this responsibility, they feel that all the little chores and problems of the men aren't nearly as tremendous as they seem to the men.

And maybe the women are right, but it isn't nice of them to laugh. Didn't THEIR mothers ever tell them that it's rude to laugh at people? Well, it is—and men are people, too.

INVITATIONS

Don't invite yourself to the home of others for holidays.

Don't send messages that make it hard for the family in question to turn you down if they can't have you during a holiday season.

Writing that "it will be possible this year for us to spend the vacation with you but tell us if it isn't perfectly convenient" is a suggestion that makes it difficult for your friends not to invite you.

Often it is a delight to entertain members of the family or other friends on a festive occasion such as Christmas time but frequently it is not a desirable undertaking for those who must be responsible for the happiness of others.

Usually there is work enough for mother if she entertains her immediate family.

Mother gets little pleasure out of cooking big dinners and preparing company feasts.

As likely as not the rush and heat of holiday season puts Mother in bed for some days.

Why don't you use a little consideration in such matters?

If you knew that your mother would be ill when your guests arrive and that you would really have all the work to do would you invite the crowd as freely as you do now?

A RACE WITH THE SHERIFF

One of the blessings of a moderate business depression is that it chills excessive optimism. Many business men would expand themselves into bankruptcy if they could get sufficient credit from bankers and machinery builders. In fact, undue expansion of productive facilities is a major cause of depression. Thus the evil is its own corrective.

The sequence of unhappy events is as follows: A manufacturer buys equipment to double his capacity, making a small down-payment and giving notes for the balance. Orders do not increase as fast as he had hoped. His profits are not equal to the burden of the notes. By postponing payment of bills for supplies he manages to reserve funds to meet a day in arrears. When he is ninety days in arrears to supply houses he is refused further credit, so he arranges with the machinery builders or the bank to pay part of each note. Now he is in a race with the sheriff.

If this incident is multiplied by several thousand, you have hard times. Buying ceases until the business structure is restored to health. The needs of the country must grow until the excess productive capacity is absorbed. Then begins another spree of expansion, which continues until a slow-down is again forced.

The moral that every business man should heed is that the business that attempts to grow too fast is flirting with disaster. A business, like a plant, needs trimming back and then, to give the roots a chance. Executives must moderate their ambition in good times; then they can be optimistic in lean times.

Five Buildings Ruined By Fire At Sugar Grove

Damage Estimated Near $50,000 Result Of Fire In Small Town

(International News Service)
SUGAR GROVE, Pa., Feb. 17.—Five buildings in the heart of the business section here today were a mass of blackened ruins and debris following a fire late last night. Loss of more than $50,000 was caused, according to the estimates by firemen. For a time the blaze threatened the entire business section. A general alarm was sent out and aid of fire departments of nearby towns was requested. Among the apparatus at the scene were trucks from Warren, Pa., and Lakewood, N. Y. It took several hours to bring the flames under control.

Absolve Driver At Inquest Into Hook Fatality

Jury Believes Harry Moore Could Not Avoid Accident Which Caused Death

WITNESSES AGREE ON MAIN POINTS

After hearing the testimony of witnesses relative to the accident which resulted in the death of Mrs. Ida Hook, who was struck by the automobile of Harry Moore of R. P. D. No. 3, on Sunday evening, February 7, and died Thursday morning, February 11, a verdict of unavoidable accident was returned by the coroner's jury last evening. The inquest before Coroner Orville Potter was held in the office of Alderman Green.

The testimony of many of the witnesses was confusing and conflicting, but most were agreed upon the fact that Mr. Moore swerved his car into the curb to avoid hitting Mrs. Hook, and that he had made an effort to stop his car by slamming on the brakes.

Two of the witnesses were several hundred feet away at the time of the accident and did not agree on many of the details.

William Vogan operator of the bus, told of Mrs. Hook getting off his bus at Leasure avenue, and of stepping up onto the sidewalk to wait until he had pulled away. He said he had not seen her afterwards, and had not paid any particular attention to passing cars, although, he remembered some had passed him after he had pulled away from the curb to resume his trip toward the end of the line.

Girl Sees Crash
Mrs. Grace Hoch, who resides at the corner of Leasure and Wilmington avenues, told of her daughter running into the house on Sunday evening, February 7, about 6:30 and saying that a woman had been struck by an auto and killed. She went and saw them picking Mrs. Hook up and putting her into a car, and she picked up her pocketbook and some papers which were scattered over the street.

Margaret Hoch, aged 14, her daughter, stated that she had gone out onto the porch to set out the milk bottles, and saw Mrs. Hook walking in the street, near the curb, apparently toward the corner of Leasure avenue. She set the bottles down and as she did so, heard a crash and looking up, saw Mrs. Hook struck. She was apparently hurled backward, she stated. She said she was knocked down and her head seemed to strike the curb. She said she went out and tried to pick up her head and then two men came and picked her up and carried her into a car and took her to the hospital.

She said she did not know just how Mrs. Hook had been struck as she had her head down at the time. She said she saw a big blue automobile out in the middle of the street, going south.

She said the car skidded toward the curb and then sort of turned and stopped and the men came back and picked the lady up. She said it looked to her as if the driver had tried to avoid hitting the lady.

Carl Hoch, who lives on the Pulaski road and is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Hoch, said he was at his brother's home that evening and that they were playing the piano and so he did not hear the crash. He went out afterwards and saw Mr. Moore's little son come limping along and thought that he had been the one who was hurt. He said Mrs. Moore brought her little boy into his brother's home.

Dean Testifies.

Earl W. Dean, who resides at 929 Winslow avenue, said that he had been at the Cross home that evening to see Andrew Cross who had been killed on Wilmington avenue the evening before. Afterwards he had walked up to the spot where the accident to Cross had happened and while there at the corner of Winter avenue, one block south, had his attention attracted by the screeching of brakes. He said he looked up the street and saw a car swerve into the curb, then out again, and saw a body falling. His little son was with him and they ran up to the scene of the accident, and he helped to put Mrs. Hook into a car, and then when machines going by did not stop and were endangering them in their efforts to get the woman in the car, flagged down the approaching machines. He said the Moore car had stopped 70 or 80 feet below Leasure avenue, and near the east curb of the street.

He said he did not see the lady get hit, but saw her body falling. It was around 6:30 in the evening, he judged, and just getting dark. The street lights were lit. He saw marks along the street for about 30 feet, where the car had evidently skidded its wheels in trying to stop, and that there were marks on the curb where the lugs on the wheel had evidently scraped against it. By the distance of the marks on the street, and his knowledge of automobile mechanics, which is his business, he would judge that the car was going about 35 or 40 miles per hour.

He said the car had come down close to the curb, and that the lady had been struck at a point about 20 feet below the lower side of Leasure avenue. He said the corner was well lighted and one could see for a considerable distance. He said he made the remark at the time that it had taken the fellow a long while to get stopped.

He said the car seemed to veer to the left as it struck her and he would not know what part of the car hit the woman.

William Bartberger of 705 North Mercer street, stated that he was standing at the corner of Winter avenue and Wilmington avenue, near the scene of the Cross accident about 6:30, on the evening of February 7.

Saw Sparks Flying.
He said he heard the screeching of the brakes on a car up the street, and looking up, could see sparks flying where the car struck against the curb. He then ran up the street to where the accident occurred, and Mr. Moore said, "Is that you Mr. Bartberger? Will you give me a lift with this woman?" He then went to Mr. Moore's assistance and helped put the injured woman in Moore's car, and held her while they went to the hospital. Dr. Wilson had driven up just then and asked if there had been an accident. He said they told him a woman had been struck and asked him to go to the hospital and take care of her when they got there, which he did.

He said Mrs. Hook's body was lying in front of the Moore car, several feet away, when he got there, and that they had carried her over to the curb and laid her down until they could get the doors of the car open as cars were passing the scene of the accident and were not stopping.

In reply to questions by Attorney Orville Brown, who represented the Hook family, he said he seemed to see Mrs. Hook's body roll along in front of the car. He could not see so well, however, as far away as he was and did not know whether it was a man or a woman who had been struck. He said he was the first one at the accident except Mr. Moore, his wife and the children who were in the car.

Examined Moore Car

He said he had examined Mr. Moore's car after the accident and found the left front parking light broken, and the rear right wheel damaged where it had struck the curb. Where Mr. Dean stated that Moore's car came to a stop about twelve feet from the east curb, Mr. Bartberger was positive that it was about that distance from the west curb. The fact that "Wilmington avenue is a wide street, seemed to confuse many of the witnesses on distance.

Harry Moore, the driver of the car which struck Mrs. Hook was the next witness. He stated that he was greenkeeper at the Field Club and resided near there.

He stated that he and his wife, their three children and niece had left home on Sunday evening, February 7, to go to church.

When they got near the corner of Leasure avenue, they saw the bus pull away from the curb and another car speed past it, up Wilmington avenue. The lights on the car were very bright, and he had dimmed his in order to see better. He said he had not seen anyone get off the bus but did not know whether anyone had or not.

Just as they were passing the street intersection, a car sped past them enroute towards the city.

After the car passed, he saw a woman coming towards their car, apparently trotting along. Their car was going about 20 miles an hour at the time.

Afraid Of Poles

She seemed only about three feet away and he swerved his car to the right to avoid hitting her. The car went over against the curb and bounced away and as it did so, he said Mrs. Hook was struck. She seemed to run against the side of his car and was hit by the machine about at the parking light. He said he had to pull off to the left after he had scraped along against the curb as there were two telephone poles right ahead and he was afraid of hitting them. The woman's body was in the rear of the car after it had been stopped and not in front as stated by another witness.

He said as he bounced against the curb, the right rear door was thrown open and his little boy fell out. After he had gotten the car stopped, another car passed between them and the curb and he was afraid his little boy might be run over by it.

His car is equipped with four wheel brakes, Mr. Moore stated, and he had applied the brakes vigorously when he saw Mrs. Hook so near his car, but that when he hit the curb his foot was knocked off the brake pedal. He believed that it was when he bounced back from the curb that Mrs. Hook was struck.

After he had struck Mrs. Hook, and had stopped his car, another machine passed between them and the curb, but whether this car also hit Mrs. Hook he did not know. He was much concerned about his little son who had fallen out of the machine.

Wife Tells Same Story.

Mrs. Moore told practically the same story as her husband. She said she was greatly worried about her son, who had fallen out of the car, especially when this other car passed between them and the curb. When she got out she saw her son scrambling up on the curb and he said "I was afraid that car was going to hit me."

Mrs. Moore stated that she had not looked at the speedometer to see how fast they were going but knew that it was not very fast, probably about 20 miles an hour.

She said that her husband had picked Mrs. Hook up himself, no person coming to his aid when he asked for someone to help him, and that he had practically gotten the injured woman into the car when Mr. Bartberger arrived and helped him.

Alvin C. Herberg, a son-in-law of Mrs. Hook's was called. He stated that Mrs. Hook had regained consciousness only for a brief period on Monday morning, following the accident. She said she recognized her daughter Mabel and her son James. He said that the doctors had told him that Mrs. Hook had received a broken leg, broken wrist, broken nose and concussion of the brain. Her leg seemed to be crushed below the knee.

The witnesses who saw the accident and the Moore family seemed at variance on their stories of where Mr. Moore's car had gone after the accident. Some said the car stopped about twelve or thirteen feet from the west curb, one said it stopped that distance from the east curb, while another said it was in the middle of the street. They differed as to whether the body was in front or in back of the car after it had stopped.

They were all agreed however that Mr. Moore had made a serious effort to stop and had swerved his car to avoid striking Mrs. Hook.

The jury was composed of J. G. Forbes, Addison, Caruthers, William S. Lewis, Carl Staebler, J. C. Kennedy and Charles E. Allen.

Spanish Veterans Observe Sinking Of Battleship Maine

Hold Pleasing Affair At The Legion Home On Tuesday Evening

Annual observance of the sinking of the battleship Maine, which caused the Spanish-American War, was an event of last evening in the Legion Home under the auspices of Colonel Daniel Leasure camp No. 21, United Spanish War Veterans, and its auxiliary.

The affair this year took the form of a tureen dinner, which was served at 6:30 o'clock. Seventy-five persons participated in the event and had a most enjoyable time. The tables were decorated in keeping with the occasion, with flags, the national colors and flowers. Following the dinner Commander W. F. Dickson assumed charge, and after a few brief remarks turned the affair over to Dr. C. C. Green as toastmaster of the evening.

There was no pre-arranged program, none of the persons called upon having any advance information that they were to speak. The speakers called were Walter S. Reynolds, Homer C. Drake, E. L. Kurtz and F. S. Nessel.

After this part of the program the evening was spent in a pleasant social manner, with cards and bingo as the chief diversions. The committee of the camp for the affair consisted of Harry Lach, chairman; Orville Vanhorn and R. H. Huffman, while the auxiliary was represented on the committee of arrangements by Mrs. A. C. Hanselman and Mrs. George Davies.

Westminster College Graduate In China Tells Of War Strife

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 17.—Rev. Orvil E. Mirtz, a graduate of Westminster College with the class of 1928, now an instructor in Lignan University, Hainan Island, China, writes interestingly in a letter to Prof. R. X. Graham which was received here yesterday.
Writing on January 11, Mirtz tells of conditions in the war zone, of seeing an execution, and of other things of interest.
"The first airplane to land on Hainan," Mirtz writes, "arrived Saturday. You can imagine, perhaps, the excitement it created. It flew down from Canton—one of the government planes carrying a couple of generals or something. Big as life on the propeller was a sign, 'Standard Steel Propeller Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.' I almost ran up and threw my arms around it! I might have, had not the military guard kept everyone at a respectful distance."
"I've seen an execution of Red bandits, so I don't care to be in front of the business end of army rifles. What's an execution like? Allow me to quote from 'Hainan Notes', a brief account I am keeping of my experiences out here:
"Des. 26, 1931—Well, I've witnessed an execution. I've been hearing the shots and the bugle, I've seen the blood-stained banners, and I've even picked up lead from the bullets, but these have all been after the excitement was well past, though the execution ground is only about a hundred yards back of our compound. But this time I saw everything. It's like what I've said about sea-sickness and appendicitis operations, a great experience, but once is enough."
New Castle Girl There
"The Holcad brought me my first news of fall activities. I read every word of it, even in the advertisements. When I finished, I sent it on to the French's (Rev. and Mrs. Arthur French, Arthur French, Westminster '26, and Evelyn Winger, New Castle, Westminster '28).
"Though only 75 miles away, I've only seen the French's once, overnight about a month ago. Previous to that the roads were not open, due to heavy rains, bridges washed out or blown up, and other hazards. I am hoping to go there again this week-end (January 16), driving the mission Ford with a couple of visitors as passengers."
"It's possible that I may spend the week between semesters, too, with the French's. On the other hand, I may run up to Hong Kong and get a sight of civilization, take in a movie, and eat a dish of ice cream of all these pleasures we are deprived on Hainan."
While in college, Mirtz was captain of cross country, held conference records in distance runs in track, was president of the student council, was an officer in Kappa Phi Lambda, and won the Tri-State Conference gold medal for scholarship and athletics.

Simple Ceremony To Mark Funeral Of Noted Actress

No Religious Ceremony For Late Minnie Maddern Fiske, Will Cremate Body

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Referring to her wishes, funeral rites for Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, favorite of the American stage for three generations, will be simple.
Her husband, Harrison Grey Fiske, said today he would follow her desire that there be no religious ceremony recited for her and that her body be cremated.
The final rites will be held tomorrow at Fresh Pond Crematory.
"I do not want any ceremony after death," Mrs. Fiske wrote in a letter to her husband. "I do not want a public exposition of my body. I never sought publicity in my life and I do not desire it in death."
Mrs. Fiske died at Hollis at the age of 66, following an illness that attacked her last year in Chicago.

Conscience Stricken Thief Returns $4,000 And More Too, To Owner

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Police today still sought the conscience-stricken thief who stole $4,000 which had been sewn into the lining of a coat of George Spudich, despite the fact that the culprit returned the money and added $20 to the original sum.
The money was returned to Spudich by Frank A. Bogadek, attorney for the man who stole it. The lawyer made the transfer in the presence of high police officials.
District Attorney Andrew T. Park said he would not attempt to force Bogadek to reveal the identity of the remorse-stricken client.

Father Of 23 Is Placed In Jail

Father Of 23 Living Children Jailed For Non-Support To Wife And Five

(International News Service)
HOBOKEN, N. J., Feb. 17.—A father of 23 living children, Michael De Reso, 55, today began a sentence of a year and a day in jail on charges of failing to provide for five of them as well as his wife.
In recorder's court, he said he once owned a $100,000 orchard in Marlboro, N. Y.
De Reso refused to post a $500 bond guaranteeing to support the six members of his family, asserting he now made his living by peddling.
His other 18 children are self-supporting.

Lodge Troop Meets

With their adult troop leaders present, troop No. 5 of the Elks Club met this week for an interesting session with their scoutmaster, Gordon Cartwright, in charge. Opening ceremonies were held, dues collected and good turns reported.
Officials of the troop who were present included Chairman Ed. Ryan of the troop committee; Assistant Scoutmaster Sandy Howard; Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Harry Brown and Senior Patrol Leader Bill Fair.
A first aid contest was held, the leaders being Bob Rodgers and Ray Haley. Ray Haley's team was victorious by a margin of one point. The contest was a new experience for some of the boys of the troop.
The closing ceremonies were held and the troop dismissed. After the troop met a leader's meeting was held.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

If the secret service department hasn't gone haywire, that new organization which was exclusively announced here some time ago, will be formed Thursday night, but the place of organization is a secret. The new outfit, "The Minor Sex Auxiliary" is for the purpose of binding together those lads whose wives or sweethearts (only one to a customer) are members of bridge clubs that meet every now and then.

The possibilities are limitless. Look around your neighborhood and see how many of the boys are eligible. Hardly a woman who doesn't play bridge these days, and hardly a bridge party but breaks up later than the time set. Hence the organization, designed to protect the interests of the gentlemen-in-waiting, give them a common bond of fellowship, and aid in passing a law requiring bridge games to break up at the time scheduled.

The "Man-A-Block" system will be used in getting memberships, and what block is there but hasn't at least one man that has shivered in the cold winter night waiting for the girl friend to have another little bite of salad or play one more round. Getting the low down on this organization meeting will be difficult but the motto of the secret service is "sees all, knows nothing."

The Lincoln-Garfield alumni will meet Thursday evening also, in the Temple club. Twice a year they get together for a time once in the summer and once in the winter and for a few hours the old days are back, when J. P. Hervey was principal, and the South Side was Slabtown.

There's a wagon on the streets of New Castle that goes prepared against the cold. An iron bucket full of hot coals is hung on the back of the wagon, the idea being that the driver can get off now and then and get hot. Looks like a good idea but what about the horse.

Mrs. Stanley Treser has joined the "Robin-February" lodge. Seems that a regulation, union robin dropped into the Treser back yard for a shot of coffee.

Drove by Gaston Park yesterday afternoon and if you want to get an eyeful of it now, drive up Arlington Avenue. Even with the trees bare and the bushes brown, it is an inviting place. When the world is green again and the summer is truly here, Gaston Park will be tempting you away from the hot streets.

OFFICERS HUNT BOMBING GANG

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Government operatives were closing in today on the headquarters of an international bombing gang, believed to be responsible for recent outrages throughout the country and the planting of explosives in the Vatican at Rome.
Twenty-five men, investigators for the Department of Justice and the Post Office Department, are concentrated in Newark, N. J., which is not far from the lair of the ring somewhere in Northern New Jersey.

Union Crowd Taxes School Hall For P. T. A. Program; Sunny Avenue Pupils Star

Even standing space was at a premium last night when it came time for the younger group of Sunny avenue school pupils to present the play, "Polly in History-Land," before a capacity audience of Union township parents, school teachers and others in the Union auditorium, Scotland Lane.
Performing to perfection, the youthful actors and actresses displayed a degree of talent seldom witnessed here before. The grader's appearance was sponsored by the Union Parent-Teacher association, whose regular meeting the program featured.
What prompted the hearty applause that was repeatedly given last night was the fact that none of the pupils are in grades higher than the sixth. The leading character, Polly, played by Elizabeth Glasser, is a fifth grade pupil.
Delightful piano solos featured the intermissions between acts and a lasting impression was made on the audience by the toy orchestra of first and second grade pupils, which contributed to the entertainment in a fine style.

Bessemer Shooters Up In Wee Small Hours At Newly Created Range

The terrific bombardment heard around the No. 2 Brick plant at Bessemer as early as 1 o'clock this morning, was not an extension of the Jap-Sino warfare, because the boys are still going at it over in the Far East. It was just a group of 40 Bessemer men who are enthused enough over the newly created Rod and Gun Club business to lose a lot of perfectly good sleep firing 22 rifles.

The possible high score was 200, which represents the number of targets shot at by each member, but it was left for Christy Kramer to carry off honors with a 171 score which is good if anybody cares about shooting. The club is newly created and the men are very enthused, so much so in fact that P. A. Kanengeiser and Archie Shoup had to get out guns to chase the men off the range and to bed.

At a meeting of the Bessemer Rod and Gun Club held Tuesday evening in the Bessemer High school it was decided to organize a league of shooters with four captains in charge of the teams. There will be four men on each team and there will be ten teams. The teams have not as yet been chosen, but will be arranged within the next few days.

Paul A. Kanengeiser, as president of the Rod and Gun Club presided at the meeting along with Archie Shoup, who serves the club as secretary.

Plan Fish Fry

It was also decided to hold a stag fish fry at the Bessemer High school during the week of the seventh of March, and the fish committee which has been authorized to produce the fish members is composed of Charles B. Nord, J. A. Johnson and August Anderson. It will be the work of this trio to scare up some fish for the big doings and a real enjoyable time is expected. Archie Shoup said today to emphasize that it was a stag party, so its stag, meaning for men only, anywhere the boys are already getting up appetites for the fish.

HOOVER ASKS FOR REORGANIZATION OF EXECUTIVE BRANCH

secretaryship of interior in charge of "conservation," under whom would come reclamation work and the broad supervision of water power development, including such projects as Boulder Dam, the Columbia river projects and allied developments of Muscle Shoals;

5. Placement of the commissioner of education to an assistant secretary of interior with transfer of all educational undertakings to his care; and

7. Promotion of the director of agricultural economics to an assistant secretary, and the designation of an existing aide to the secretary of agriculture as "assistant secretary for agricultural research."

Sees Large Saving

The immediate changes, Mr. Hoover asserted, would cost about $40,000 per annum in additional salaries, but "the saving in cost of administration would be many times this sum."

The president promised he would retain the ten major executive departments if given the right to redistribute by executive order. There is much overlapping and wastage, however, he declared, that can, and should be eliminated.

The public works administrator would have charge of all construction work and contracts of the government, except naval and military construction, while rivers and harbors work would continue under direction of the army engineers, who would be delegated to the administrator for that purpose.

Mr. Hoover suggested the chairman of the civil service commission be made "personal administrator," and the present work of that body, the bureau of efficiency, the classification board, and allied agencies consolidated under his control.

The White House branded the whole proposal as a "non-partisan measure." Every president since Taft has made similar recommendations, it was pointed out, while Mr. Hoover personally has been advocating the changes for six years.

The message text follows:

MESSAGE

To the Senate and House of Representatives: Because of its direct relation to the cost of Government, I desire again to bring to the attention of the Congress the necessity of more effective organization of the Executive branch of the Government, the importance of which I have referred to in previous messages. This subject has been considered many times by the Executive and by the Congress, but without substantial results. Various projects are now before the Congress.

The need for reorganization is obvious. There has been with the years a gradual growth of the Government by the accretion in its departments and by independent executive establishments, boards, and commissions as problems requiring solution confront the President and the Congress. To-day the Government embraces from 150 to 200 separate units, dependent on the method of notation used. Governmental units when once set up have a tendency to grow independently.

GOOD NEWS FOR THOSE WHO LIKE COFFEE

"I like a good cup of coffee with every meal but I used to suffer when I drank it," says Edward J. Owens, well-known salesman of 86 Falmouth Street, Boston, Mass.

"I would have sick headaches, would belch, leaving a sour taste in my mouth, gas on my stomach, and terrible indigestion. I tried many things before my druggist persuaded me to take some Pape's Diapepsin."

"I have a better appetite. Now, I can drink coffee even late at night, eat lobsters, pork or anything I want and sleep like a baby."

Get a package of these candy-like tablets from your druggist. They stop heartburn, gas on stomach, belching, nausea, headaches or any other symptoms of indigestion soon as the trouble starts.

The public works administration should be partially a service agency to the other departments of the Government, executing certain construction work, the subsequent operation of which should be carried on by those departments. It should be also partially an administrative agency not only doing other construction work but also subsequent operating such works. Naval, military, and civil engineering specialized construction work should not be transferred to this agency. The supervision and construction of rivers and harbors work should be continued under direction of the Army engineers, who should be delegated by the Secretary of War to the services of the Administrator of Public Works for this purpose.

The personnel administration relating to the personnel of the Government as a service agency to all departments of the Government. I recommend that the Civil Service Commission should be maintained as an advisory body to the Personnel Administrator, and the approval of this body should be required in all regulatory questions. The Personnel Administrator should be the chairman of the commission. Other functions relating to the personnel of the Government should be transferred to the personnel administration as may be deemed wise from time to time.

Reclamation Service

With respect to certain agencies in the Government, I recommend a separate legislative reorganization of policy. The first of these is the Reclamation Service. Reclamation should have a broader import than that of bringing unproductive land under cultivation. We do not need further additions to our agricultural land at present. Additional agricultural production except such marginal expansion as present projects is inadvisable.

The conservation of water by storage is required not alone in the West, but in all parts of the country.

The effective development of water conservation through storage is largely an interstate question in the aid of domestic and industrial water supply, transportation, irrigation, and flood control. Where construction work for storage relates to these issues, it is properly the work of the Federal Government. When water power is developed as a by-product, it should be disposed of in advance by contracts which will fairly reimburse the Government for its outlay. The Reclamation Service should be extended to cover these broad purposes of storage and conservation of water rather than the narrow purpose of irrigation. Such important projects as the dam at Boulder Canyon, the dam at Cove Creek, the development of Grand Coulee on the Columbia, and the dam on the Umatilla should ultimately be undertaken when contracts can be made for the sale of power to the Government. The actual construction work under this plan should be carried out by the Public Works Administrator and the completed projects administered by the Reclamation Service.

Conservation of Western Ranges

There should be a change in policy in dealing with public lands if we are to preserve their value for grazing and other purposes. The Commission on Conservation and Administration of the Public Domain, authorized by act of the Congress approved April 10, 1930, completed the task to it a year ago. Its report has been transmitted to Members of the Congress. Legislation carrying into effect the recommendations of the committee also is before the Congress. These proposals are the result of painstaking study and earnest deliberation. They offer a solution of the problems, connected with this remnant of our public domain, which have persisted for the past 25 years. I recommend the report to the attention of the Congress, deeming the legislation of sufficient importance to justify early action.

Conclusion

In conclusion, I can not recommend too strongly that the Congress give the subject of effective organization of the executive branch of the Government its early and serious attention. It is an essential part of a sound reconstruction and economy program. A patchwork organization compounds inefficiency, waste, and extravagance. Economy and efficiency can come only through modernization. A proper reorganization of our departments, commissions, and bureaus will result, not only in much greater efficiency and public convenience, but in the saving of many millions of dollars now extracted annually from our overburdened taxpayers.

Supper Meeting Tuesday Evening By Board Staff

Two Committees Of Y. W. C. A. Give Demonstration Of Their Work

Members of the board, committees and staff of the local Young Woman's Christian Association gathered in the Green Room Tuesday evening where supper was served them and a program, for the purpose of offering these groups a clearer insight into the activities being carried on in the education and health education departments, was presented.

Young women of the "Modern Cinderella Club," recently organized club at the "Y," who are enrolled in a cooking class at the Senior high school, cooked and served the delicious supper, under the supervision of Mrs. Roy Long. The club members had also arranged and set the tables. They were introduced to the Y. W. C. A. leaders and one of the girls gave a one minute talk on what has been learned at the special high school cooking class.

Mrs. W. W. Sniff, chairman of the educational committee, called upon Mrs. James Calahan to tell about the weekly Bible classes which have been conducted so successfully by Rev. G. S. Bennett in the association building. Mrs. Thomas told of the Elm Street center cooking class.

Miss Espedita Abruzzini, Italian secretary of the International Institute, told of the classes being conducted in her department.

Miss Martha Bigley, chairman of the health education committee, introduced Mrs. W. E. Feyer who described in gym department activities. After a short and interesting talk by Dr. Mildred Rogers about health examinations, the group adjourned to the gymnasium where Mrs. Walter Hutchinson, director of gym, gave a demonstration of the work. One of the regular classes assisted, and tap dancing was presented by girls from the Elm Street Y. W.

Mrs. John E. Elliott, president of the trustees, presided during the evening.

Madison Christian Banquet On Friday

Young Peoples' Banquet With Concert Following At Seventh Ward Church

With the completion of the program, a glance over its contents reveals that the young people's banquet which is to take place in the Madison Avenue Christian church Friday evening at 6:30 and 8 o'clock promises to be one of the most splendid events in many months.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 by Mrs. S. P. Turk, Mrs. J. W. McHattie, Mrs. J. M. Bevan, Mrs. A. S. Eberhart, Mrs. J. S. Burroughs, Mrs. J. W. Jones and Mrs. S. E. Parli. The dinner is for members and some special guests.

At 8 o'clock the main program of the evening will commence and the general public is given a cordial invitation to be there. The church has been fortunate to secure the talented Miniature Choral society of colored singers and a special young men's quartet and young women's quartet. They will present in the auditorium a varied program of spirituals and patriotic selections.

East Brook Girl Wins First Place

Second Of Class "A" Contests Held At East Brook High School Building

Good attendance marked the second contest of class "A" pupils of county schools at East Brook high school last night, according to County Superintendent John C. Syling.

Only two features were put on, oration and cornet. The oration contest was won by Dorothy Carrick of East Brook. Others who participated were Carrie Yeropolia, Bessemer; John Fleck, Shenango; James Wright, New Wilmington; and Virginia Galle, Mt. Jackson.

The cornet contest was won by John Fleck of Shenango township. There was only one other entrant, John Maley, of Bessemer.

The judges were Miss Mabel Eichler and Clifton Gifford, both of Slippery Rock State College, the former judging the oration and the latter the cornet.

Ministerial Alliance.

The Ministerial Alliance held an interesting session in St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church Tuesday.

Rev. W. W. Nelson, treasurer of the James Memorial hospital fund reported that the campaign for 400 quarters went over the top with $106.95 raised in the mass meeting held February 12.

The effort was sponsored by the Ministerial association, but it was aided by all colored citizens of the city, all working together in a harmonious spirit.

It was decided that the alliance would shortly take up the problem of raising a fund for the mayor's relief.

Union Baptist Church
A prayer and song service will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Union Baptist church and following the service the choir will rehearse.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock Class 2, taught by Mrs. Virginia Anderson will give a program. Rev. J. A. Brown of Fairmont, W. Va., will be the special speaker at services to be held next week in the church, beginning Monday evening.

Rev. Brown is well known here as a splendid speaker and singer.

Eveready Club
Ten members of the Eveready Club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Angeline Smith on West Falls street. A short business session was held followed by the serving of refreshments by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lindor Hays. A special guest was Mrs. Virgie Anderson.

In two weeks Mrs. Tyler of Grant street will entertain in her home.

HIPPO BENEFITTED MANY
(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES—The Los Angeles Museum of Arts and Sciences has benefited by the misfortune of a motion picture studio when a rare pygmy hippopotamus was accidentally killed in the filming of a picture.

The studio paid the circus for the loss of the hippo, the museum got the skin and mounted it as the central figure in a "life group" of African mammals, and the museum authorities enjoyed a dinner of hippo meat.

MAIL BOX PAINT
JOB BEGINS SOON
"It won't be long now." Superintendent of Mails R. A. Steen answered this morning, referring to the job of painting some 90 or more of the city's street mail boxes. The large supply of green paint is now stored in the postoffice basement. Officials only hope the weatherman does his part. All weather-worn collection schedule cards in the boxes will be renewed with up-to-date schedules when the painting is done, Mr. Steen said.

Endeavors Meet

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Central Presbyterian church met Monday evening in the church parlors for the monthly business and social meeting.

John Thompson opened the meeting with devotionals, after which Gil Brown conducted a business session.

Games and a general good time marked the social hour with Blanche Bright and her committee serving refreshments.

Westminster Guild

Members of the Westminster Guild of the Central Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening at the home of June Campbell, Crawford avenue, with Viola Maxwell as associate hostess.

Miss Margaret Louers gave a missionary talk on "China."

Miss Geraldine Fry, president was in charge of a brief business meeting, after which a social hour ensued.

Valentines were skillfully used in the decorations as the hostesses served refreshments.

Worthy Mistress Association

Members of the Past Worthy Mistress Association of the L. L. O. I. will meet Thursday afternoon in the Clendennin building.

Cards will feature the afternoon hours, this being the second in a series of events planned by the association.

Class Supper

Members of the Willing Workers' Class of the Second United Presbyterian church will have a spaghetti supper Thursday evening in the home of Kathryn Critchlow, 347 E. Washington street.

Dames of Malta

The Dames of Malta have completed extensive plans for a card and bingo party to be conducted at the close of the lodge meeting in Malta hall Tuesday, February 23. They will meet for play at 8:30 p. m. Prizes will be awarded.

The entertainment committee consists of Mrs. Walter Waid, Mrs. Frances Johnson, Mrs. Margaret Sherbine, Mrs. Blanche Swanson and Mrs. Emma Sweet.

D. O. C. Class

Miss Julianne Jackson, Neshannock boulevard, entertained the members of the D. O. C. Class of the Highland United Presbyterian church in her home Tuesday evening.

The girls held a brief business meeting, with Thelma Merrielle presiding, after which games of various kinds enlivened the hours.

The hostess was assisted by her mother in serving refreshments.

Choir to Rehearse

The choir of the Croton avenue Methodist church will have a rehearsal period this evening at the close of the mid-week prayer service.

Hanna Class Meets

The members of Mrs. W. R. Hanna's class of the First Christian Bible school met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charlotte Foster, South Crawford avenue, with Miss "Bunny" Drake as hostess.

At an election of officers held,

Ray Otto was named president, and Sara Swan, secretary and treasurer. Games and music featured the after business hours and the hostess and her sister served a delicious lunch.

March 15 the class planned on having a tureen dinner in the church.

Tureen Dinner

The members of the King's Daughter's class of the First Methodist church had a tureen luncheon in the church dining room Tuesday at one o'clock with places arranged for twenty two at tables decorated to suggest George Washington's birthday.

March 8 the class has planned a St. Patrick party.

Mrs. L. M. Buchanan presided at the business session and a time of sociability followed.

M. C. Circle

Interesting Facts About Abe Lincoln

Sterling Virtues Were Taught Youth By Early Training

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

On February 12, 1809, in a rough log cabin in Hardin county, Kentucky, 123 years ago, Abraham Lincoln was born.

When he was seven years of age his family moved to Indiana, traveling through the wilderness, a distance of several hundred miles. They had no airplane, no automobile, no railroad—no one in the world had them then—no road, no wagon, not even a cart.

Pots, pans, kettles, blankets, the family Bible, and other things were put into bags and loaded on a couple of horses. Abe's mother and his sister, Sarah, climbed on one horse, Abe and his father on the other. Where it was hard going for the horses the father and mother walked.

There Tom Lincoln, Abe's father, built a cabin of one room 18 feet square. The earth was its floor, it had no windows, its light and heat came from the log fire within.

From this new home Abe and his sister walked to school nine miles away.

During the first winter in this new home Abe's mother died. Abe was only eight. His mother, Nancy, was a praying, Bible-reading and God-fearing woman, and his father, Tom, a man "that didn't drink and cuss."

When Abe went off to school in the morning, his mother washed out the corners of his ears and combed his hair and kissed him. This waiting upon the lad did not seem to hurt him. If children of today had as many opportunities for learning self-reliance as did Abe Lincoln they would also profit from such mothering. The trouble is that there are so few natural opportunities today for children to take on responsibilities at home. Mothers of today keep on washing ears and necks of their school children, not merely till they are eight, but often till 18 or till such time as the child rebels.

By sharing with the family in the hardships of the wilderness Abe Lincoln learned the value of money and other property. He wasn't ruined by too much ready cash that destroys character in so many children of today.

Abe Lincoln learned respect for property and for the rights of others to its possession. At about 14 he borrowed a book from Josiah Crawford. The book was soiled by the rain that beat in through the cracks of the cabin. Abe went to the owner of the book and volunteered to harvest corn to pay for it; and he pulled corn fodder for two days.

When at about the age of 20 Lincoln kept a store, he discovered one evening that a woman had paid him six cents too much. That night he walked six miles to pay that woman the six cents, earning the title "Honest Abe". No university degree could equal that.

Let us lose no opportunity to lead our children to be honest when they do not have to be. If we parents could help our children to know Honest Abe and love him, and forever imitate him ourselves, they ought to grow to be honest too.

Scottdale Bankers Acquitted By Jury

Two Bankers Acquitted On Charges Of Embezzlement And Misapplication

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 17.—Thomas D. Byrne and Frank F. Byrne, former officials of the Broadway National bank, Scottdale, today stood acquitted of charges of embezzlement and misapplication of the funds of the bank.

After deliberating less than three hours a jury of 12 men acquitted the uncle and nephew.

Both Byrnes were accused by the government of using the funds of the bank for stock market speculations.

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Not that it matters:

What a jolt when Jane and Catherine Lee were introduced from the floor of the Paramount grill the other night... Remember them?... The child star smashes of early silent days... They are still young, of course, but the realization that children must grow up in the movies always brings an odd pang... I felt the same way when I saw Jackie Coogan for the first time in long pants... Will Morrissey, the producer, admits that he just doesn't seem able to team up with a hit show any more, but he says he's willing to be a flop to give the critics the satisfaction of saying "I told you so!"... A remark which shimmers with other edges...

"Little Jack Little," of other fame, reminds me of Bobby Vernon, of silent comedy days... By the way, where's Bobby now, anyway?... Abe Lyman, the jazz impresario, has the sort of chin people used to think of when they said "Strong and masterful"...

Dan Healy is the only master of ceremonies I can think of who isn't a bit rowdy... He's so genteel of manner that ringers are awed and refrain from heckling him... But it takes Jack White to put uproarious patrons in their places with lightning repartee...

I am told that Dr. Logan Clendenen gets the most absorbingly human and candid fan mail of any of the syndicated writers. But it's destined, of course, for his eyes alone... That was an ingenious cameraman who concealed a small movie outfit in a bag of pretzels and ate the pretzels to drown the buzz of the machine while he filmed Eddie Cantor's act at the Palace...

STUDIO STUFF
Everybody who can wrangle a pass ought to tour the movie studios in Astoria... A trip is full of interest, even for those who are familiar with west coast talkie making... A different atmosphere prevails here... More casual and good humored, it seems to me, if less fantastic...

Stuart Walker, the director, looks like a college professor—and talks like one... He's making "Sensation" with Claudette Colbert, in Astoria now... The rumor is that this is the last feature to be made in the east for a long time... But this climate is ideal for night scenes—which are filmed on dark, cloudy days... Most of the bit players have jobs in Broadway shows, and thus are able to double, for double pay...

The property room resembles a monster pawn shop... The huge collection of pistols there, including every known type, from Derringers to tear gas squirters, is checked over carefully by the New York police department and counted... If one were lost the outfit would find itself in a serious jam... And the no smoking rule is strictly enforced in the studio building... Violators have actually been fined $50 for a single ciggie... This is the result of the disastrous fire which swept the studio of another organization last year...

Few camera queens use greasepaint any more... Make-up has slowly diminished until now it consists principally of orange powder dusted on with a brush... New lights, new film, are responsible... Experts in the laboratories of the big movie concerns still experiment feverishly with direct-color photography, but none has found the commercially ideal method yet...

THEY WOULD LOOK FAKED
One movie company announced it would get a number of real newspapermen on their days off and use them as color in a newspaper play... Wonder whether that's smart... The catch is, it seems to me, few doctors or lawyers or milk wagon drivers really look like doctors, lawyers and milk wagon drivers... People have simply built up illusions of types, and the real article is often a jolt... Many writers I know resemble prosperous stock-brokers, some look like milk wagon drivers... And true stories are almost never convincing in print...

Tax Computation Is Near Finish

Probabilities Are That Tax Card Shower Will Come In April

Clerks in the bureau of assessors, city hall, are continuing to compute the taxes that are due for 1932. It is probable that all of the wards will be finished within the next few days and it will then be possible for members of council to know exactly what taxation will be due for this year.

After the books are compiled and the cards are prepared the annual shower of tax cards will occur about April 1.

Short-Term Bond Issue Suggested

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The administration is considering a large federal short-term bond issue in denominations as low as fifty dollars to entice money out of the non-interest-bearing recesses of the home.

This, it appeared today, was the latest thought of the best minds in the campaign to put an end to hoarding and start frightened currency back in circulation.

A maturity of only three or four years is contemplated for the securities, which will be sold to a panicky public much as the war-time liberty bonds. The interest rate tentatively has been set at 3 1/2 per cent. Thus, an investor would be insured of sustained par value because of the short duration of the issue, and at the same time would command a quarter of one per cent more interest than if he deposited in a savings bank.

Floated By Banks
At the same time, the banks would benefit because the bonds would be floated through them and the money left with them to the credit of the government.

It was understood such flotation was in course of progress to supplant the original idea of issuing the unsubscribed $1,500,000,000 capitalization of the reconstruction finance corporation in bargain-counter denominations.

Slippery Rock Night Will Draw Many To Cathedral

Patriotic Program Will Be Carried Out Under Direction Of Faculty

Slippery Rock night will be observed at the Cathedral Friday evening, at which time the anniversary of George Washington's birth will be celebrated by the Consistory Dinner Club with a program of more than ordinary merit.

The program, which will be patriotic in character, is sponsored by the faculty of Slippery Rock State Teachers' College, those on the committee being J. A. Entz, A. P. Vicent, T. J. Heim and William Tinker, all of whom are Consistory members holding membership in various Scottish Rites bodies throughout the country.

The male glee club of the college will render a number of selections during the dinner hour. They will also be heard during the program in the auditorium. They will be a feature in themselves, as the glee club is one of the best that Slippery Rock has had in years and expects to compete with some of the best college glee clubs in the country in the near future.

The crowning event of the evening will be the four-reel moving picture portraying the life of George Washington. These films were produced by the government and were leased to the larger educational institutions of the country. The films to be shown here are owned by Slippery Rock Teachers' College, having been purchased by them for educational purposes. This will be the first time they have been shown in New Castle, and from present indications a large crowd will be on hand to witness them.

After the entertainment in the auditorium there will be dancing and cards to round out the evening's pleasure. As usual, "Red" Williams will have charge of the pep singing during the dinner hour.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

In the early days of financing homes for the fast growing city, there was no name more frequently mentioned, nor any person in the community more active along those lines than William T. Dougherty.

He was born in Beaver county in 1845 but was reared in Jefferson county, Ohio, and was educated at Harlem Springs, Carroll county, O. He was identified with this city from 1886 until his retirement quite a few years ago, when he made California his home. When eighteen years of age, Mr. Dougherty enlisted for service in Company B, One Hundred Fourth Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry and served six months in the Twenty-third Army corps, participating in the Georgia Campaign, from Chattanooga to Atlanta, following General Hood's forces through Tennessee and taking part in the Battle of Franklin. In 1866, at the close of his military service during the Civil War, Mr. Dougherty came to this city, accepting a position as book-keeper for one of the city's then large lumber companies. He became very active in the affairs of the Grand Army of the Republic and served as commander of New Castle Post No. 100 for eight separate terms. When he was first elected in 1888, he was the youngest member of the order in the United States filling that office. After working for a time for the lumber company, he spent four years in the newspaper work, subsequently serving twelve years again as book-keeper and then became interested in insurance and looking after his interests in city enterprises. It was through his activity in the organization of the New Castle Mutual Building and Loan Association, which still today is one of the leading institutions in the community in making home owning possible, that he had a real share in the upbuilding of this community in its formative days. He served as secretary of the association from its organization in 1887, until well on into the present century. He was also secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Mutual Fire Insurance Company from its inception in 1895 until well on into the present century. He was a member of the Central Presbyterian church, which he served as an elder for many years and was also a member of the Masonic Fraternity.

Sons Of Veterans Special Guests Of Youngstown Camp

Interesting Affair Is Held At Youngstown On Monday Evening

A number of the members of Oscar L. Jackson camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans, and auxiliary of this city on Monday afternoon motored to Youngstown, where they were entertained in an elaborate manner by Baldwin camp and auxiliary of that city.

At 6 o'clock members of the Youngstown camp and auxiliary and the guests from here were seated at a long beautifully decorated table and enjoyed a very fine thirteen dinner. The table appointments were carried out in red, white and blue in honor of the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington. Miniature flags and flag holders were used as centerpieces, also bouquets of flowers and tall lighted tapers. After dinner, the guests were entertained by the "Moonlight Serenaders" of Columbus, a ten-piece orchestra directed by Albert Altman.

Later in the evening a very appropriate patriotic program was carried out under the direction of Commander Reed of the Youngstown camp, with the assistance of his committee.

Comrade Jackson, a veteran of the Civil War, was a special guest of the occasion. After a number of readings, solos and recitations, the speaker of the evening was called and gave a splendid review of the lives of Lincoln and Washington, bringing the program to a conclusion.

The program was followed by dancing, the music being furnished by the "Moonlight Serenaders." Guests attending from New Castle were Mrs. Charlotte Confer, Mrs. Nellie Sweet, Mrs. Ida Ashton, Mrs. Helen Harlan, Miss Clara Ashton, George Farrington, Charles Harlan, Herman Gilbert, Arthur Grannis, Clarence Grannis, S. L. Gilbert, Neil Williams, Jr., also Mrs. William Duncan and Miss Eunice Brigham of Ellwood City.

Police Ready To Assist Constables

Mayor Believes In Police Co-

forcement

Constables who have been making raids in various parts of the city have the support of Mayor Charles B. Mayne, who stated today that whenever constables believe that there is a violation of the law and request the aid of police, the officers will be provided.

During the past week or more a raiding squad headed by Constable James Ellison of the first ward has been quite active. In several of the raids city police accompanied the constables.

"Last Saturday night looked like old times," said Sheriff Frank Johnston in city hall today. By this he meant that prisoners were "coming and going" due to activities.

CHRYSLER challenges with these questions...

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S PATENTED FLOATING POWER?

All of the finer, more beautiful new Chryslers have Floating Power—an entirely new type of engine suspension—which takes first place among the engineering developments of modern times. Revolutionary in principle—sensational in results. Completely wipes out power tremor from both frame and body. Creates an entirely different "feel" in performance. Yields a smoothness that is impossible to describe.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S AUTOMATIC CLUTCH?

Completely Automatic. Makes driving supremely simple. You don't have to touch the clutch pedal when starting from a standstill, when changing gears, or even to use reverse.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S SILENT GEAR SELECTOR?

It isn't gear-shifting in a Chrysler any more—it's gear-selecting. When you release the accelerator, you move the lever freely into place in any direction without touching the clutch pedal—starting from a standstill or traveling at any speed, or when reversing. It's easy, it's effortless.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S FREE WHEELING?

Chrysler's Free Wheeling is an entirely separate unit at the rear of the transmission. When you are free-wheeling in a Chrysler, the transmission gears are at a standstill, disconnected from both the engine and the rear wheels.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S HYDRAULIC BRAKES?

Chrysler Hydraulic Brakes excel because they are simpler. They have fewer parts. They never need lubrication. They are always equalized because they equalize themselves. All new taxicabs in New York are required by city ordinance to have Hydraulic Brakes.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S CENTRIFUGAL BRAKE DRUMS?

New and larger brake drums of combined steel and cast iron. A steel drum with cast-iron lining—the drum and the lining permanently fused together. Brakes that last longer, remain cooler, retain uniform efficiency.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S ALL-STEEL BODY?

With today's congested traffic conditions, steel motor car bodies are as vital to safety as steel railway coaches. Chrysler steel bodies are of all-steel construction, rigidly reinforced and welded into one piece. Entire body sound-insulated.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S DOUBLE-DROP GIRDER- TRUSS FRAME?

The modernizing of the motor car has imposed new demands upon automobile frames, as well as other units of the car. Chrysler engineers have developed a frame of entirely new design. Amazingly rigid construction—a distortion-proof foundation for the body.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S OILITE SQUEAK-PROOF SPRINGS?

Regardless of mud, snow, ice or dirt, these springs will not squeak. Springs that never need lubrication. The steel leaves of the springs are separated by Oilite—a patented metal that contains its own lubrication. These great springs are standard on all three new Chrysler Eights.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S SPEED AND PICK-UP?

You may never care to drive 75—85—90 miles an hour, but the great power that makes these speeds possible makes Chrysler performance, at any speed you choose to drive, the most enjoyable performance under the sun.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S EFFORTLESS STEERING?

Women especially enjoy Chrysler steering. It not only makes driving easier, but it is so much easier to get in and out of parking spaces. And Chrysler steering is protected from road-shocks.

FOUR COMPLETE LINES—GREAT RANGE OF PRICES...19 BODY MODELS

A new Chrysler Six with an 82-horsepower engine and five body models, $885 to $935 (Automatic Clutch on all Sixes, $8 extra); a new Chrysler Eight with a 100-horsepower engine and five body models, $1435 to $1695; a new Chrysler Imperial Eight with a 125-horsepower engine and three body models, $1925 to $2195; a new Chrysler Imperial Custom Eight with a 125-horsepower engine and six body models, $2895 to $3595. All prices f. o. b. factory. Duplate Safety Plate Glass standard on Custom Eights. Obtainable on Six and Eight Sedans, $17.50; on Imperial Sedans, $20; all 2-passenger Coupes, $9.50. We repeat—what is there to match these new Chryslers?

How Adults, Children Acquire Lead Poisoning

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Eating paint off the furniture, woodwork, toys or pencils is not just a bad habit, vaguely "not good for the child." It results in a quite definite disease—lead poisoning.

That this occurs frequently in infants and children has only recently been recognized.

In adults the manifestations of lead poisoning have been recognized for a long time. They are, of course, almost always associated with occupation which involve the handling of lead. Nobody ever thinks of exposure to lead in little children—and that is probably why so many cases go without diagnosis or even suspicion that anything definite is wrong.

Lead gets into the body in very insidious ways—through the skin, by being breathed in, etc. All animals are susceptible to it. Birds that feed on berries in the neighborhood of smelting furnaces have been found to be affected with lead poisoning.

In adults the symptoms are strange metallic pallor to the skin, a blue line on the gums, various nervous symptoms and colic. "Devonshire colic" was the name first given to the disease. It was proved by old Sir George Baker that the colic was due to drinking the cider of Devonshire which had lead in it from the habit of stirring the cider in the vats with a lead weight.

In children these symptoms are not so marked. Since during the teething period children have the habit of chewing anything or everything, it is during that time—one and two years—that the condition is likely to be found.

The children are restless and irritable and have a perverted appetite (or pica). Pallor is usually present. Constipation, a symptom of the condition in adults, is marked; colic may be suspected even if the child cannot explain it. Vomiting has been noted. In very severe cases nervous symptoms similar to those in adults come on. Even paralysis, which has been mistaken for infantile paralysis.

X-ray examination is a way to detect it, as is pointed out by a recent writer in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

It is well known that in lead poisoning in adults the lead is deposited in the bones, replacing calcium there. It does this also in children and can be easily detected by a heavy line of the X-ray plate at the ends of certain bones, especially the ribs, but also the bones of the forearm.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10¢ cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? Chances are you're poisoned by clogged bowels and inactive liver. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years—Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients. They act easily upon the bowels, help free the system of poison caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, nightly. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists.

Watch Ohio Line For Gas Violators

State Highway Patrolmen from the Butler sub station patrolled the Youngstown road about the Ohio state line yesterday on the lookout for gasoline tax violators. Corp. L. C. Hanks of Butler, in charge of a detail of patrolmen who came to this city yesterday, announced that the lookout was maintained for the purpose of checking on gasoline carriers that entered the state from Ohio to ascertain whether the carriers are paying the customary state gas tax on entering this state. Patrolmen Royal S. Wyatt and J. S. Hahn who patrolled the highway also kept a strict watch for violators of the motor code.

To Decide On Road Projects Early Next Week

Over Ten Million Dollars To Be Spent During Coming Year, Lewis States

TO SURFACE ROADS AND BUILD BRIDGES

HARRISBURG, Feb. 17.—The first highway projects to be improved in Pennsylvania this year with Federal aid funds will be made public early next week, Secretary of Highways Samuel S. Lewis announced today.

Between $10,000,000 and $11,000,000 will be expended in 1932 improving sections of road on the Federal-aid system in this state, the head of the highway department, added. The State has an allocation of between $4,500,000 and $5,000,000 from the federal treasury and that will be matched by the department.

It is expected to surface approximately 350 miles of road with this money, Secretary Lewis said. A number of bridges also are to be built with Federal aid funds.

To Increase Mileage
"The Federal-aid construction projects will be announced the early part of next week," the highway secretary said today. "In planning the Federal-aid work we have endeavored to secure the largest and widest distribution of mileage for the money available and thus extend the opportunity of absorbing the unemployment in as many parts of the State as possible."

Secretary Lewis said there are approximately 1800 miles of road on the old highway system which are unimproved. With the Federal-aid money expended that figure will be reduced to about 1450 miles. Secretary Lewis said that if funds permit the department may improve some of the less important of these sections with "low cost" surfacing. Last summer more than 820 miles of these roads were surfaced at a cost approximating $6,000 a mile.

The highway department, Secretary Lewis said, has not yet determined what mileage of former townships roads will be improved in 1932. Last summer when the department took over 20,000 miles of these township roads a program of 1700 miles was announced. Later the department added 666 additional miles. Unfavorable weather conditions prevented a considerable portion of the latter program from being completed. These will be finished in the spring.

Bi-Centennial Will Be Observed At Trinity Church

Invitations Issued To Bi-Centennial Committee And Patriotic Orders

To commemorate the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington a special service will be held next Sunday evening in Trinity Church at 7:30 o'clock.

To this service all of the people of the city are invited. Invitations have been accepted by the local Bi-Centennial Committee of which Hon. Walter S. Reynolds is chairman, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Daughters of the American Colonists, the Lodge, P. & A. M. It is anticipated that the invitations to the Masters of the other three Masonic Lodges will be accepted as soon as there is time to act upon them. Because the Father of our Country was a Mason and an Episcopalian it is expected that this service will be of special interest to all Masons and members of Trinity Church.

As George Washington was made a member of the Episcopal Church when he was baptized according to the use of the Book of Common Prayer on April 16th, 1732, reared in the same church, retained throughout his life active membership, was for 11 years an official of that Church or until the outbreak of the Revolution, and was a regular attendant at its services after the war was over; this special service in honor of the Bi-Centennial of the birth of the great patriot has been planned for several months past in co-operation with the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

Dogs Roam Country Without Licenses; Damage Properties

About 2,000 unlicensed dogs are living in Lawrence county, it was pointed out today by J. Wylie Brewster, local dog officer, representative of the State Department of Agriculture.

Brewster said this year the county took in fees for the licensing of only 4,400 animals dogs. He has just completed the prosecution of 10 owners whose animals were permitted to run at large without the licenses.

Hugh Laughlin, farmer living at the edge of Beaver county, has reported dogs had injured three pigs on his farm. Other instances of damage by dogs have been reported in the past few weeks.

Licenses, which should have been obtained by Jan. 15, are obtainable from the county treasurer's office.

BLOOD WILL TELL IN GOOD HEALTH

Remarkable Results Followed The Use Of World's Tonic

Blood always tells. Pure, rich blood is a necessity. It is the person who is successful in a sustained effort, and it they are to retain health and vigor. N. C. Broffins, 3122 Vane Ave., Butler, Pa., had an experience along that line recently. It was not at all pleasant, but it has a lesson for nearly everybody. Here it is:

"Last year my work exposed me to all kinds of colds and flu. I got to be so tired that I could not get up. I had caught colds in my kidneys. This caused me much pain, so I used liniments and other medicines that eased it up somewhat, but never that my skin was getting ash yellow and my mouth tasted bad. My tongue was heavily coated. I took a good physic for several days, but the same symptoms of something wrong came back on me. Pimples broke out on my body. My joints hurt with rheumatism. Then my stomach and bowels got out of order, and the lids of my eyes swelled and became sore. I did not know then that these troubles came because my kidneys were out of order and could not filter the poisons out of my blood. I got so much worse that every day was a torture. My back hurt, and all my joints ached. My eyes were sore, and my breath was bad. I could work only one or two days a week."

"While I was in this way I heard from a buddy that World's Tonic had helped him, and I began taking it. In about a week the pains grew less. In another week the pimples and my eyes got well, all the pains were gone, and with World's Tonic, I kept right on so well that I began to gain weight. Then I felt the life and vigor that I had never had as much vigor and I have never had since. Anybody who is pure and rich, but nobody except me could know how full my life is, how much of a real man my blood is. This good medicine is sold by Eckerd's, J. C. Keen's, Paisley's, Smith's and all other first class drug stores. (B-48.)

Candidates Are Slow This Year With Petitions

State Elections Bureau Expects Last Minute Rush Of Nominating Petitions

HARRISBURG, Feb. 17.—Officials in the State elections bureau are preparing for the usual last minute rush of nominating petitions which will be filed by candidates in advance of the April 26 primary. The final day for filing petitions with the bureau for the primary is March 7.

This year candidates appear to be slower than in the past for the number of petitions on file at present is smaller than planned. The last week always brings a rush that taxes the facilities of the office.

The uncertainty existing in many Senatorial, Congressional and Legislative districts is a major factor in the delay according to political forecasters. This uncertainty is expected to prevail up to the closing days for filing petitions.

Many Petitions Circulated
With 208 House members to elect, twenty-five Senators, thirty-four Congressmen to elect in addition to delegates and alternates to the party national conventions and members of the State Committees there is considerable political activity in most districts. Scores of petitions for these offices are in circulation but few have been filed.

Both branches of the General Assembly will have their quotas of new faces when the legislature meets early next year. Several senators have announced their intentions of not seeking re-election. In the House a number of members have been elected to local offices or named to positions in their communities. Two members of the House have died since the adjournment of the 1931 regular session.

Police Alert, Mayor Declares

Believes That Men, Especially At Night, More Vigilant

Mayor Charles B. Mayne is certain that the members of the department of police have grown in vigilance during the past few weeks and believes that even more alertness will be displayed as time goes on.

Today the mayor declared that during the late hours of night and early hours of the morning he has been in different sections and watched police doing their duty.

The mayor is one of those men who can do with a few hours sleep and it has been his habit to be out late at night. As superintendent of police, now, he visits various sections, unknown to the officers.

People Using Time To Read

Librarian Reports Book Circulation Increase Of 31 Percent

MANY IMPROVING THEIR KNOWLEDGE

Librarian Alice M. Sterling submitted to the library board at their recent meeting a report covering activities for the year 1931. According to the report the gain of circulation for 1931 over 1930 was 31 percent. There was also a gain in both adult and juvenile circulation. Book borrowers increased 24 percent and the use of the reading room also showed an increase.

The increase in reading is due to the economic situation which has given many people more than their accustomed leisure. The increased use of the library by the public resulted in overcrowding in all departments of the main library where expansion has reached the limit. The librarian reported.

The report submitted by Miss Alice Sterling follows:

"It is a pleasure to submit to you the annual report of the New Castle Free Public Library for the year ending December 31, 1931.

"The gain in circulation over 1930 is 31 per cent; the adult gain being 35 per cent and the juvenile 25 per cent. The main library gained 32 per cent and the branches all gained as follows: Mahoningtown, 14 per cent; east side 30 per cent; south side 40 per cent. There is an increase of 24 per cent in the number of new borrowers and of 20 per cent in the use of the reading room.

"In common with practically all public libraries in the country the library has shared a notable increase in circulation and in the number of new borrowers. The economic situation has given to many people more than their accustomed leisure. Many of them are making this the opportunity to add to their store of knowledge or culture; to learn how to do a new piece of work or to do the old one better, or to provide themselves with inexpensive entertainment. This has resulted in a use of all the library facilities that is without precedent in local library history.

The increased use of the library by the public has resulted in overcrowding in all the departments of the main library, where expansion seems to have reached the limit.

"The moving of the East Side Branch Library from 1305 to 1401 East Washington Street, was a gratifying change to both patrons and staff. The new room is larger and has better heat, light and ventilation, for very little increase in expense.

"Special exhibits of new non-fiction, religious books, books on social science and economics have been a feature of library publicity. Book Week was marked by exhibits of children's books in the story hour room. In the display window of the Pennsylvania Power Company, and at Senior High School. Aid was given the faculty of Slippery Rock Township High School in organizing the high school library.

"The annual meeting of the American Library Association in New Haven was attended by the librarian. The Pennsylvania Library Association meeting in Pittsburgh was attended in part by four members of the staff. The spring meeting of the Four County Library Club was held in New Castle and was well attended. These occasions are fine opportunities for professional contact.

"A training class consisting of the Misses Elizabeth Randles, Florence Paul and Edith Cleveland was held in the summer. Miss Paul was elected to the staff in September.

"The fine loyalty and service of the staff is most commendable. The support of the board of trustees is gratefully acknowledged."

"There's no magic about keeping the charm of youth," says this popular Broadway star who triumphed last season in The Vinegar Tree. "It's just a matter of regular complexion care. For years I've used Lux Toilet Soap."

"I'm over

NANCE O'NEIL

"It is said that a woman is as old as she looks, and a man as old as he feels," says this famous star of the stage and screen. "Several years ago, I discovered that regular care with Lux Toilet Soap would do wonders for my skin and I use it regularly."

"I'm over 40!"
says

NAZIMOVA

"Only the woman who looks it is afraid to admit her age," says this famous screen star who is now winning fresh laurels on Broadway in Mourning Becomes Electra. "For years I have used Lux Toilet Soap and my skin is so smooth."

... But these lovely stars know the Secret of keeping Youthful Charm

ANY woman can laugh at birthdays— if she is wise. The recent photographs above are proof of it! "Very few actresses look their age, you notice," says lovely Alla Nazimova. "It is easy to be lovely at sixteen or seventeen, but to be still lovelier at thirty, at forty, and over... well, that is easy, too, if a woman is wise."

Because keeping youthful charm is vitally important to them, actresses take vigilant care of their skin. You will want to know how!

9 out of 10 Screen Stars use it

One favorite soap keeps lovely 98% of the exquisite complexions you see on the screen. Of the 613 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 605 use Lux Toilet Soap for their skin. The stage stars, too, overwhelmingly prefer this gentle, fragrant white soap.

"There's no reason to care about birthdays if you realize the importance of complexion care," says Mary Boland wisely.

Lions Hear Member At Luncheon Event

Dr. Bennett Recounts Life Of Famed Jap Bacteriologist;
Artists Appear

The New Castle Lions Club members heard one of their number, Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church here, discuss the fascinating life of that famous Japanese bacteriologist Noguchi. His talk followed the club's luncheon in the Elks home on Tuesday.

Featuring the program were the musical numbers contributed by a group of vaudeville midgets, appearing this week at a theatre here. Former Lion Speer Marousis provided the entertainers.

President Earl Book announced to the club during a short business session that Miss Dorothy Hunter, local blind girl, will leave soon to undertake extensive studies to qualify her for the post of supervisor at the Pennsylvania School for the Blind in Pittsburgh.

Miss Hunter is a graduate of the school's high school course herself, and has further educated herself in home studies. She lives on Lathrop street.

Miss Hunter's case was promoted by the local Lions, cooperating with the Lawrence county commissioners and the rehabilitation bureau of the blind association.

Guests of the club Tuesday included Picket Valentine, Warren, O. T. J. Morrison, Beaver Falls; H. G. Bloom, Cincinnati; P. L. Mayne, Beaver and Edward Boss of Pittsburgh.

Paul G. Dingley, Pennsylvania Power company man, became a new Lion today.

Ready To Accept Applications
Of Young Men For Summer
Camps

Application blanks for the various Citizen's Military Training Camps for the third corps area have been received by Major Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, in charge of the Lawrence county district and applications of young men interested in receiving this excellent training are now being received.

As the quota for Lawrence county is limited, those young men interested should get in touch with Major Jackson without delay. No applications will be received here except for those who have never been in training camp before and none will be received from young men or boys under seventeen years of age, which is the age limit prescribed by the regulations.

Application blanks are being mailed direct to those who have attended former camps and those who have attended former camps are requested not to make application here for application blanks. The committee here will be glad to give any information desired but does not have the proper blanks for those taking the Red, White and Blue courses.

Ages for the various courses are as follows: First Year or Basic—17 to 24 years; Second year or Red—17 to 25 years; third year or White—18 to 28 years; Fourth year or Blue—19 to 29 years.

The camps will be in operation from July 6 to August 4. The various camps of the corps area and their quota are as follows: Fort George G. Meade, Md. 2100 Infantry and Signal Corps; Fort Washington, Md. 800 Infantry; Fort Howard, Md. 450 Field Artillery; Fort Myer, Va. 200 Cavalry; Fort Monroe, Va. 450 Coast Artillery, a total of 4,600 in all.

Twenty Arrested In Italy Due To Finding Of Bombs

Believe Communists Plotted To Take Life Of Pope Pius By Bombs

SECOND BOMB FOUND ON PAPAL PROPERTY

(International News Service) ROME, Feb. 17.—Police today sought definite trace of a communist plot against the life of Pope Pius XI as a result of the finding of a bomb placed on papal property within the past few days.

Twenty men were arrested on suspicion of having had part in the planting of the bombs, neither of which exploded before they were found. The men all were workers on papal property and in the home of one of them were found several hand-made bombs.

The men were suspected of having communist connections. The possibility of a fascist plot was outlived because of the recent cordial visit of Premier Benito Mussolini with the pope.

The second bomb was found yesterday in the Castel Gandolfo, a papal villa 18 miles from Vatican City.

Central Christian Church Thronged On Tuesday Evening

Pastor Evangelist Delivers Wonderful Sermon On Interesting Subject

A congregation that filled the Central Christian church to the doors and took up every available bit of room was present Tuesday night at the evangelist service conducted by Charles Warren Johnston, the pastor evangelist, who is conducting these services. The sermon topic was "Christian Unity" and Mr. Johnston brought out many interesting thoughts in regard to the subject.

A considerable number of people from the Chestnut Christian church were in attendance and Mrs. Ada Kent of the delegation sang a solo and Mrs. Douthett and Mrs. Kelley of the visitors gave a vocal duet. Mrs. A. Dietterle of this city sang "It Was for Me".

This evening the pastor evangelist will speak on "The Great Memorial". The special musical selection will be a tenor solo by David Reese and a dulcimer solo by Mr. Clark. There will also be special selections by a quartet that has been secured for the evening.

Hot Mills Will Defend Title At Shelby Tonight

Good Games In Shelby League At Club House This Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 17.—Much is at stake tonight in Shelby league basketball at the auditorium. The Hot Mills is in danger of being tied for the lead in the second half with the Specialty and the Mechanicals and Office will battle to keep out of the cellar position.

This will probably be one of the most contested battles of the season. In the first game the Specialty will be out in full force and endeavor to upset the championship Hot Mills quint which has defeated four times in succession. Another victory for the Hot Mills will undoubtedly give them the league championship and cup for the second straight year. They must win it one more time to obtain permanent possession. The Specialty also has two legs on the cup. The Mechanicals and Office have each won it once.

Director of Athletics at the Shelby Charles Stevenson is arranging a schedule of post-season games for the Hot Mills that will include the strongest teams of Beaver and Lawrence counties.

The first game tonight will begin at 7:30 and the second one is scheduled to get under way at 8:30.

Miss Jeanne Hill Is Club Hostess

Members Of Klee Jut Klub Assemble In Fountain Avenue Home Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 17.—Miss Jeanne Hill was a charming hostess to the members of the Klee Jut Klub at her home on Fountain avenue Tuesday evening. Bridge at the two tables occupied the attention of the guests for the greater portion of the evening. Miss Mary Ellen Stier was presented the high score favor at the close of the games.

At an appointed hour the hostess served a refreshing luncheon with the assistance of Miss Irene Ross. Miss Ross invited the club to meet again at her home in two weeks.

Koppel Woman Dies After Heart Attack

Mrs. William Lannigan Attacked By Heart Ailment While Waiting For Children

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 17.—Mrs. William Lannigan, 37, of Koppel came to a surprise death here yesterday afternoon while waiting for the dismissal of school to drive her two children home. She expired at the Ellwood City hospital about 5:30 p. m.

To all appearances, Mrs. Lannigan was in good health upon leaving for this city to get her children. The heart attack occurred near the Lincoln High school. Medical aid was immediately summoned and she was rushed to the local hospital where she passed away.

The deceased is survived by her husband; four children, Lillian, Joan, Bertha, and Kenneth; four sisters, Mrs. Susanna McClintock of Fort Dale, Mrs. Sara Pierce of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Clara Jones of Uniontown, and Miss Robert Haswell of Koppel and Raymond Haswell of Chicago. Funeral services will be held on Friday at 2 p. m. from the Koppel M. E. church with Rev. Burson officiating. Interment will take place in the Clinton cemetery.

Civic Clubs Hear Railroad Man Here

Kiwanis And Rotary Clubs Hold Joint Meeting In Lutheran Church Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 17.—The Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of this city held a joint meeting last night in the Trinity Lutheran church at which time they heard R. P. Forsberg, chief engineer of the P. & L. E. railroad, speak on the subject "Conquer Your Fears."

Mr. Forsberg delivered a very informing address on this topic. He told of how fears arise and the cure for them. He also touched on the present railroad conditions and the unjust competition given by motor busses. He suggested that the latter be properly regulated and taxed by the state government and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This was preceded by a fine dinner. Both clubs were well represented at this meeting.

HARRIET GORDON SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 17.—Eleven members of the Harriet Gordon S. S. class of the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church were delightedly entertained last evening at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Vaughn Whybrew of Wurttemberg, when they met for their regular monthly meeting.

In the devotional period, the study of the Book of Acts was completed, after which a brief business meeting in charge of Miss Irene Falen was held. At the conclusion of an informal social period, the guests were served a dainty repast at one long table prettily adorned with patriotic suggestions. Novel hatched market places for Lydia McElwain, Adah Graham, Myrtle and Verna Gilbert, Faye Gallagher, Mary Emma White, Irene Falen, Mary Worcester, Frances McElwain, Margaret Parker and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held in March at the home of Miss Mary Worcester of Wurttemberg.

SEW FOR HOSPITAL

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 17.—A number of members of the Mary Braeden circle of the Wurttemberg U. P. church met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donald Hepler of Wurttemberg to sew on garments for the Columbia Hospital at Wilkinsburg. This hospital is supported by the United Presbyterian Board of churches.

There will be meetings in the mission each Sunday morning and evening, and also Wednesday and Friday nights.

Mrs. C. D. Ross Is Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 17.—Mrs. C. D. Ross was a pleasing hostess to the members of the Dining-Table club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Ninth street.

Bridge at two tables was in play throughout the day. Mrs. Walter Close and Mrs. Warren Thorpe received the high score favors at the close of the games.

A delicious repast was served by the hostess at a later hour. Mrs. Harry Parthenore invited the club to meet at her home in Knox in two weeks for its next meeting.

Local Civic Orchestra To Stage Concert

Second In Series Will Be Presented Sunday Afternoon At Cathedral

ASSISTING ARTISTS HAVE BEEN NAMED

New Castle music lovers will have another treat in store for them on Sunday afternoon, when the second of the series of concerts arranged by the New Castle Civic orchestra will be given. This concert is being sponsored by the New Castle News.

The first concert, staged several weeks ago, was a tremendous success in the neighborhood of 1,800 people being present in spite of the fact that the day was one of the worst of the winter, a terrific rain-storm coming up just at the hour of the program.

In the time of stress it has been noticed that people turn to music for relaxation and inspiration.

The program to be given Sunday afternoon, starting at 2:30, will be of a different character from the first program. Not only has the length of the program been shortened, but lighter numbers have been chosen.

The soloists will be Miss Ruth Drescher, soprano, and Albert Taylor, organist of the First M. E. church at the pipe organ.

The proceeds of the collection to be lifted will be turned over to the mayor's relief fund.

Members of the orchestra are as follows:

Judy V. Sypher, conductor.
George E. Richardson, concert-meister.

C. Leroy Shira, manager.
Violins—George E. Richardson, Marcellus Conti, Abe Levine, W. E. Walker, Michael Caruso, James Calahan, Peter Sparano, Lauren Thayer, Joseph Lakatos, Vincent Longone, Michael Gennaula, Dominik Pecano, Louis Mauney, Silvio Cresce, Angelo Filagensi, Fred Sheppard, Viola—Elden C. Murray, Vance E. Burkholder, Joseph Martin.

Cello—Joseph Replogle, John E. Paton, Victor Rice, Robert Vogan, Thomas Elliott.
Bass—Leo P. Strizzi, Lawrence Martin, Richard Swanton, James Kirkpatrick, Hugo Calazza.
Flutes—C. Leroy Shira, J. Frank Stevens, William Shira.
Oboe—Victor L. Huff, Clyde Burkholder.
Bassoon—Ernest L. McCreary, Louis Calazza.
Clarinet—Michael Piscaria, Lewis Diamond, Earl Streib, Evert McCreary.
Drums and tympany—Ralph M. Felton.
Trumpets—B. J. Biondi, Victor Gaspare, Joseph Donati, Charles A. Conti, Andrew Dodds, Paul Alford.
Trombone—Anthony Calazza, William Davis.
Horn—Opre McCoy, Donald Anderson.

Pennsy Official Retains Faith In Railroad Business

Elisha Lee, Vice President of Pennsylvania, Says Better Times Just Ahead

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 17.—Railroads will emerge from the present period of distress able to give service without parallel in the history of transportation, Elisha Lee, vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad said in a speech here Tuesday.

He declared it would be a physical impossibility to shift the bulk of railroad traffic to buses on the highways.

"The public, in its own interest," said Lee, "should see the railroads are protected from wasteful competition."

MUSCULAR-RHEUMATIC PAINS

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant" because its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation and helps to draw out infection and pain. It gets action and is not just a salve. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Corbett Scores Boxing Managers For Spoiling Act

"In Good Old Days Fighters Fought Like They Wanted Too," Says Corbett

NOW MANAGERS TELL BOXERS WHAT TO DO

By FRANK G. MENKE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—"One of the troubles with boxing today is that there is too much direction from the corner," declared James J. Corbett, who is in a hospital here recuperating from a lingering attack of flu and slight stomach disorders. "Almost every boy that goes in for professional boxing likes to fight," added Jim. "If he is permitted to battle in his own way the result would be action all the way. But the managers now keep preaching too much of this 'safety first' business in his ears and the result is that the boy won't tear loose."

Managers Are Careful.
"The manager, of course, is prompted in his advice by the eagerness for his boy to win—but not at the risk of getting knocked out. The boy represents a meal ticket and these managers are as careful as possible to preserve that ticket as long as they can."

"A further bad influence on boxing as a sport which has been brought about by managerial direction is that individualism has almost ceased to exist. We are living in what might be called the machine-age of boxing."

"Managers, instead of letting a boy fight in his own style, get some strange idea at times that they have thought up a better way. And they force the boy to battle along the lines which they lay down. The result is that the boy is awkward, he cannot do his best and he takes a beating—and then more beatings and is all through before he really began."

"I am sorry to say that the style most popular with the teacher-managers is the hold and haul and maul and 'be sure you don't get hurt, kid.'"

Just Ornaments.
"In my day the manager was the business manager. He had very little to do with our conditioning. We had a trainer to take care of that. When we got into the ring, the manager was just an ornament in the corner. We didn't let him tell us what to do—and what not to do. We used our own brains."

"I have still to find a manager who can tell a smart fighter what to do that is better than the fighter can think out for himself."

"There would be a rapid return to the old days when fights were more scientific and the grade of battles were better if the managers stuck to their clerical work and let it go at that. But so long as they try to shape the style of the ringmen and try to tell him what to do during the course of a fight, we can continue to expect mechanical boxers."

Thiel Announces Athletic Change

No More Scholarships For Athletes At Thiel, Says Lutheran President

(International News Service)
GREENVILLE, Pa., Feb. 17.—Thiel College Tuesday ordered discontinuance of scholarship awards and other reported aid to athletes, according to an announcement made by President E. Clyde Xander. It was stipulated, however, that athletes now in school on scholarships would be allowed to finish their courses.

Xander also said the 1932 football schedule would be carried out as arranged as contracts already have been signed but that the 1932-33 basketball card would be limited to 14 games.

The status of G. O. Benson, football coach, will be determined by the athletic board at a meeting March 1.

Thiel is the second district school to adopt the so-called amateur plan. Allegheny College having announced it would operate under the system starting next fall.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Age may be creeping up on the boys who chased flies and hit homers a decade ago but that doesn't prevent us from printing the names of some of yesterday's heroes; fans and those who helped to keep baseball fans keyed to a keen pitch of excitement.

Say, for instance, we hop back to the days when the Y. Pennsylvania Engineering and the U. A. A. were going Great Guns. Look over the Engineering works lineup: Rodney Baugh, ss; Batley, 2b; Kearns, 1b; Coen, cf; C. Haid, rf; Guinagh, c; S. Jones, 3b; O'Brien lf; and H. Haid, p.

And now how about the I. A. A.? Their lineup was: Bullano, lf; Riordan, ss; Thompson, rf; Myland, cf; Riordan, 3b; Porter, 1b; Marcella, 2b; Hart, c; and Dischner, p. While the Y line-up consisted of: Dietsch, ss; Herbst, rf; Mescal, 3b; Taggart, c; Andrews, 2b; Allen, lf; Glenn, cf; Maccevey, p; Borden, 1b.

Rodenbaugh is still cavoring while Kearns is driving street cars. H. Haid has been up in the Big Show but Rocky Guinagh still goes behind the bat. S. Jones is one of the umpires that braves the wrath of players while Tom O'Brien wears a constable's shield.

Porter handles butter and eggs while Haid is in Chl. He played in the Pullman league a few years ago. Coen splits his time between watching birds fly and pitching. Haid had charge of the Myny golf club. Andrews hasn't given up ball playing yet and Allen chases news.

Dischner was from Pittsburgh. Herbst left high school coaching some years ago. Mescal is here as is Richards, Bullano and the other boys, who about 12 or 13 years ago were wont to gambol in the field or along the base lines.

In 1930, the name of Bill Porter appears in the lineup of the Castle Irwin team, New Castle won 7 to 1 in the morning and 3 to 2 in the afternoon. In the afternoon game the Cords lineup was: Layden, cf; Davies, 2b; Doherty, ss; Conway, lf; O'Donnell, rf; Dietrich, 3b; Lalonge, c; Porter 1b and Carts, p.

The Castle Cords got Layden and O'Donnell from Franklin, La. Longe came from Oil City. Later the Cords lineup consisted of: Popp, cf; Coen, lf; Conway, rf; Mills, c; Davies, ss; Rittelman, 3b; Nyse, 2b; Croud, 1b; and Markle, p. Roebie played second for a time and Paul McCullough hurled.

The lineup of the Castle Cords in those days had no pitch changes for us to see where they pitched the Firestone and Moleksi pitched and Carl caught. The Cords later with Carts pitching beat the Grays 6 to 0 and 5 to 4. That feat has seldom been duplicated.

Falcons Topple West Pittsburgh

Taking an early lead which they maintained throughout the Polish Falcon basketball team romped off the floor with a 35-14 victory over the West Pittsburgh passers Tuesday night on the Falcon hall.

At the half the Falcons led 14-4. Dudek with five field goals was outstanding for the Falcons while Cochran was the best for the losers. Tonight the Polish Falcon team opposes the Struthers-O'Brien on the Falcon floor at 8:15. In the preliminary game the Falcon Girls meet the W. S. Indies at 7:15 o'clock.

The lineup:
Falcons: W. Pittsburgh
A. Mchale, F. Anderson
Kozella, P. R. Elssesser
Boczar, C. Cochran
Dudek
J. Mchale, G. J. Elssesser
Substitutions: Falcons—S. Kora, Boron, Kolodjeski, Kurdupski, Volosko, Demanaco, Quinn.
Field goals: A. Mchale 2, Kozella 2, Boczar 1, Kolodjeski 1, Dudek 5, Kurdupski 1, J. Mchale 1, Volosko 1, R. Elssesser 1, Cochran 4.
Fouls: Falcons 4 out of 8, West Pittsburgh 4 out of 8.
Referee—Marino.

Solomon May Battle Again

Joe Alexander, manager of Mickey Solomon, local middleweight, today stated that he is dickering with Pittsburgh promoters for a reappearance of his batter in that city soon. Solomon recently won the decision from Jack Tracey in a good six round fight. Mickey underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils recently and since recuperating is anxious to keep busy.

Fields Scores K. O. Over Pete In Fourth

Jimmy Dunn's flyweight, Ross Field scored a knockout over Pete Mazzo in the third round at Cleveland. Ross put Pete down twice for counts of nine before delivering the haymaker. Both boys have fought in this city.

Allegheny Hard Pressed By Thiel

Allegheny beat Thiel in a nerve-racking overtime basketball game, 40 to 39, last night at Greenville. With 15 seconds to play and Thiel in the lead, 36-34, Dennison got a set-up and made it good to tie the game. In the extra period Berger and Ralston tallied from the field. Harter's foul, followed by Wardle's field goal, cut the Alligators' margin to a point.

Senior A Wins Exciting Game

Senior B Five Loses Tough Game 16-15 In Inter-Class Loop Tilt

Enacting a game replete with action Tuesday afternoon on the senior high floor, the Senior A basketball team made a Frank Merrill finish to win an exciting 16-15 victory over the Senior B five in a regular league game. The contest marked the opening of the second half of the Inter-Class League.

During the first half the Senior B outclassed the Senior A and walked off the floor enjoying a 13-2 lead. The A boys failed to cage a field goal. Changing their tactics, the Senior A commenced rolling up scores in the second half. The B team was held scoreless from the start during the entire second half. The final score, 16-15. This game proved one of the best so far in the league.

In another game the Sophomore A girls won a scintillating 16-14 triumph at the expense of the Junior B lassies.

Line-up:
Senior A 16: Brinko, F., Gallagher, Wallace, C., Deep, Vagali, C., Reynolds, Ciccone, G., Nocera, Grommes, G., Seniors: Senior A—Clause, Brinko, J., Wallace, I., Vagali, I., Ciccone, Grommes, G., Deep, 2, Nocera, 1.
Fouls: Senior A, 2; Senior B, 5.

New Wilmington Tops Washington

Fast And Interesting Game At New Wilmington Won By 28 To 26 Score

New Wilmington High topped George Washington Junior high team 28 to 26 in a fast and exciting game played at the New Wilmington floor last night. The locals held a lead of 10 to 1 in the first quarter, but the Washington boys staged an uphill battle to take the victory after some "lucky" baskets on the part of Minner.

The Washington guards Anderson and Covelli were forced out of the game during the first half by personal fouls. This crippled the locals to quite some extent. The half found the Washington passers ahead 17 to 13. The third quarter the score was 24 to 22 in favor of Washington, and it was in the final quarter that the Wilmington boys leaped to the front. A shot from out of bounds by Minner that trickled through the basket and was allowed by Referee Eagleson in the first half of the game gave New Wilmington their edge.

The playing of Pratt, Anderson, Covelli, Donegan, Minner and Sharp featured the game.

The summary:
Geo. Washington 26 Fg. F. Tp.
Pratt 1 1 3 4-5 10
Zillian 1 1 0 0-3 3
Donegan 1 1 0 0-3 2

Rochester High May Prove Tough

Valley Team Drills For Coach Bridenbaugh Five Contest On Friday

TWO MORE GAMES FOR NEW CASTLE

In order to consummate its task, that of winning the Section Three race, the New Castle high school basketball team must win its two remaining games. Next Friday Rochester will be met at Rochester and on the following Friday, Feb. 26, Butler will travel here to meet the Tin City five in the final game of the league.

Rochester to date has not made a good record in the league, but has proven tough. New Castle defeated Rochester, 25-17, here earlier in the season. At the half the Coach Bridenbaugh team led 13-11. It was the showing in the second half that brought victory to the local outfit. A more difficult task is looked for at Rochester since the game is being played at Rochester.

The local team is taking this game seriously. Should the Titans win they will have to defeat Butler to win the coveted title, which grants the winner the right to represent this section in the W. P. I. A. L. tourney which starts soon.

The final practice session takes place Thursday afternoon for the New Castle passers.

Youngstown 'Y' Here Thursday

Clashes With St. Mary's In Third Game Of Five Game Series

EXPECT BIG CROWD TO WITNESS GAME

St. Mary's and Youngstown Big Y will clash Thursday night on St. Mary's floor and First Baptist A runner-up in the church league will oppose St. Mary's Reserves in the preliminary game which will start at eight o'clock.

When St. Mary's and the Big Y meet it will be the third of a five game series between the two aggregations. The Youngstown Big Y won the first game after a hard battle 16 to 14.

St. Mary's obtained revenge, however, when they traveled to Youngstown last Wednesday. The score was 35 to 31, a bigger margin than scored by the Big Y in taking the first game of the season.

As Thursday night is Booster night at St. Mary's auditorium one of the biggest crowds of the season is expected and Coach Fritz Fraser has St. Mary's basketballers primed for the important game.

He will probably use Kulich, Rowe, Lackey, Uhle and Jones while the Youngstown Big Y will have John Youngman, Mincham, Fitzgerald, McDonnell, Griffin and Grinnen.

Important Games Announced By "Y"

Fourth game—St. Johns vs. winner of the Sacred Hearts vs. First Baptist B game. This game will determine the winner of the first half championship in the B League.

Hazel A. C. Bows To Safety Five

Safety Five won from Hazel A. C. 16 to 12 last night on the Carnegie floor.

The lineup:
Safety Five: Hazel A. C.
Goelano, P., Tressler, Clambotti, F., Koder, Briggs, C., Storri, Biondi, G., Jones, De Carlo, G., McCoy.
Substitutes: Safety Five, Di Genaro, Pulpone, Richards and Venditto. Field Goals—Briggs 4, Richards 2, Storri 3, Koder, Tressler, Clambotti and Di Carlo. Fouls—Safety Five, 6 out of 7; Hazel A. C., 2 out of 6. Referee—Vigali.

Volley Ball Team To Play New Brighton

Word was received from New Brighton "Y." that the volleyball team would travel to New Castle to play a five-game match with the New Castle "Y." volleyball ball team. The following men will represent the local "Y.": Lew Harlan, Ray Rhodes, Julius Markey, Preston Seyfert, John Ray Preston, George Zeigler, Joe McPate and Francis Sowersby, with Joe Sulzer officiating. No admission will be charged at these games and the general public is invited to attend.

TWO TITAN PLAYERS ARE ON SICK LIST

Westminster Meets Bethany Basketball Team Tonight At Bethany

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 17.—With two members of the squad on the sick list during the first part of the week, the Westminster College basketball team faces Bethany at Bethany, W. Va., tonight with a possible revised lineup.

Ted Blauer, Sharon, guard, has been on the sick list since Sunday; and Gerald Newton, flashy forward from New Wilmington, has also been confined to his bed. Whether or not these men will be able to play tonight was a problem early this morning as Coach John Lawther made preparations to leave for Bethany.

Although the Bisons have not won any conference games, the Titans are not taking tonight's contest at Bethany lightly. The Westminster Bisons have often turned in upsets, and unless Westminster plays its best ball tonight, the Bisons may register their initial conference victory of the season.

In all probability, Lawther will start Kocharan and Silander at forward, Brownlee at center, and Rice and Wilhelm at guard against the Bethany five.

St. Andrews Teams Lose At Harrisville

St. Andrews big team and the Reserves took defeats last night at Harrisville, Pa. The St. Andrews big team was topped 39 to 26 by the Harrisville Indies, and the Harrisville Alumni downed the St. Andrews Reserves 23 to 20 in a fine game. The playing of Owens was a fine for St. Andrews.

Tonight St. Andrews will play at Butler.

The summaries:
St. Andrews 26 Harrisville 39
Jenkins 1 1 0 0-3 3
Riley 1 1 0 0-3 3
Boyd 1 1 0 0-3 3
Small 1 1 0 0-3 3

Subs—Owens, Shook, Jenkins, Humphrey, Thompson, Gilmore, To-phrey.
Field goals—R. Neyman 3, Laurel, Owens 3, Shook, McGill 4, Humphrey, Gilmore.
Fouls—St. Andrews 4 out of 13, Harrisville 11 out of 19.
Referee—Wilson.

Trade School Tops Evans City, 33-13

EVANS CITY, Pa., Feb. 17.—Tuesday afternoon the New Castle Trade School basketball team traveled to Evans City where they chalked up another victory, defeating the Evans City high passers. The score was 33-13.

At the end of the first half the Traders held an 11-7 advantage. Despite the lopsided score, the Trade School five did not show up as well as it has in previous games. Motoko and Ostrosky were the outstanding players for the Trade school, Kennedy and Sarver were the best for the losers.

The lineup:
Trade School 33 Evans City 13
Llewellyn 1 1 0 0-3 3
Nigro 1 1 0 0-3 3
Motoke 1 1 0 0-3 3
Laderer 1 1 0 0-3 3
McMillan 1 1 0 0-3 3
Substitutions: Trade school—Ostrosky and Kozella; Evans City—No-to, Painter, Sarver.
Field goals: Llewellyn 1, Nigro 1, Kozella 2, Motoke 6, Ross 2, Ostrosky 3, Kennedy 1, Burket 1, Sarver 1.
Fouls: Trade School 3 out of 5; Evans City 7 out of 11.

BLUE BIRDS WIN
Blue Birds girls basketball team won from the Falcon maidens 24 to 6 in a game played at the Falcon hall. Kennedy and Niemczki were the feature players of the game.

Instinct Pulled 'Battler' Through

Down Five Times In First Round Terry Comes Back To Even Battle

GRADWELL SUBBED FOR 'K. O.' SWEENEY

Instinctive fighting was written of recently during which it was recalled that Tom McMahon fought Tom Cowler 10 rounds without realising what city he was fighting in. This article of a courageous bout staged by Battling Terry against Willie Gradwell in the opera house about 16 years ago.

Terry was scheduled to box Knockout Sweeney but the New York state fighter did not arrive for some kind of a reason and Leo P. Flynn who died recently brought Willie Gradwell, an Englishman from Jersey City to fill the engagement.

Gradwell appeared bigger than Terry and when they weighed in he topped the local lightweight several pounds. As Gradwell was a comparative stranger the promoters were somewhat skeptical of permitting the fight to get under way.

"If the fans are not satisfied when the fight is over, refund the money," said Leo, who in those days was not quite so prominent in listic circles as he became later. As he managed Jack Dempsey when he fought Gene Tunney at Chicago. It was decided to let the fight go on.

When the fighters crawled through the ropes it was on a hot May night and the opera house, now the Capitol theater, was still hot. Approximately 300 fans were enough to brave the heat of the May night.

Leo Was Confident
Before the bell sounded Leo stepped before the audience and remarked: "I've brought Willie Gradwell in place of K. O. Sweeney. Any person not satisfied with his fight can get their money back after the fight is over."

Only two fans left the building, the rest having decided to stay for the conflict and when Patsy Branigan, the referee, called the battlers to the center of the ring for instructions a buzz of excitement penetrated the house.

When Gradwell stripped off he looked as fit as a fiddle. The muscles seemed to dance all over his body and the fans apparently realized that with Terry as his opponent they were set for a good fight and they were not to be disappointed.

The bell rang and it had not sooner cast its echo throughout the theater until the local lightweight had been hit and knocked down. He got up, Terry was knocked down four more times.

The local fighter was "out" on the floor when the bell ended the round and his seconds dragged him to a corner where smelling salts and vigorous measures brought him to his senses.

When the bell sounded for the second round his seconds stood him on his feet and shoved him toward the center of the ring. Terry instinctively raised his arms and hands in self defense.

He took an unmerciful pasting in the second and again in the third but the beating, no difference how terrible it must have felt to Terry, could not force him to drop beaten to the canvas.

Full Self Together
In the fourth the local lightweight pulled himself together and as the bout progressed commenced to land effectively to the head and body and wasn't long until he was holding the easterner even.

During the last few rounds of the fight Terry forced to the front having taken the play away from Flynn's "surprise packages" and when the bout was over no one thought of asking for a refund of the duet money.

Only a week prior to the bout Terry had the Cleveland lightweight, Phil Brock in a 10 round bout at Steubenville. During the bout Terry's chief second had three ribs fractured when he was kicked by a partisan of the Brock crew.

He was Mike Barry. Barry returned to New Castle with his body swathed in bandages and it was really he who promoted the Gradwell-Flynn fight but when it looked like a "bloomer" took French leave of the city.

The managers of the two fighters, Gradwell and Terry agreed to go through with the battle and it is unlikely that it will be forgotten for sometime. There have been plenty of spectacular battles here but none more exciting than that one.

Sacred Hearts Plays Forest

Hearts Hope To Take Eighteenth Victory On Armory Floor

Sacred Hearts will play their 26th game of the season when they tackle the Forest A. C. on the armory floor at eight p. m. tonight. Of the 25 games played the Sacred Hearts have won 17.

The Forest A. C. should give Sacred Hearts plenty of trouble, as they boast such players as Tony Cooper, Mose Marcone, Frank Viggall, Luke Rowe, Paul Laurel and others equally as prominent.

Union-Mars To Battle Tonight

Union High Will Have Mars High As Attraction At Union Gym Tonight

Union High School basketball team will have Mars High as the attraction tonight in a Section 18 game at Union High gym. The game will be a fast one. Union upset Mars in a recent league game at the Mars High floor and the Butler Countians are out for revenge.

The Unionites have been somewhat crippled by the loss of Joe Augustyn and Mars High sneaks through with a victory tonight if the Scotland Lane boys are not up on their toes. Coach Boyd is still experimenting with several of his latest boys in order to fill the gap left by Augustyn. As yet the Union team lacks an aggressive center.

For Second Place
Union can hold second place undisputed if they topple Mars tonight, but on the other hand can tie for second place with a victory. A fast and interesting game is looked for.

Coach Boyd gave his team a light signal drill yesterday in preparation for the battle that is expected tonight.

Union has dropped but two league games and the fast Zelenople High team, Zelenople is almost sure of representing the Section 18 team at Pittsburgh in the schoolboy playoffs.

Geneva-Allegheny To Play Thursday

Long Awaited Geneva-Allegheny Battle Will Be Played In Valley

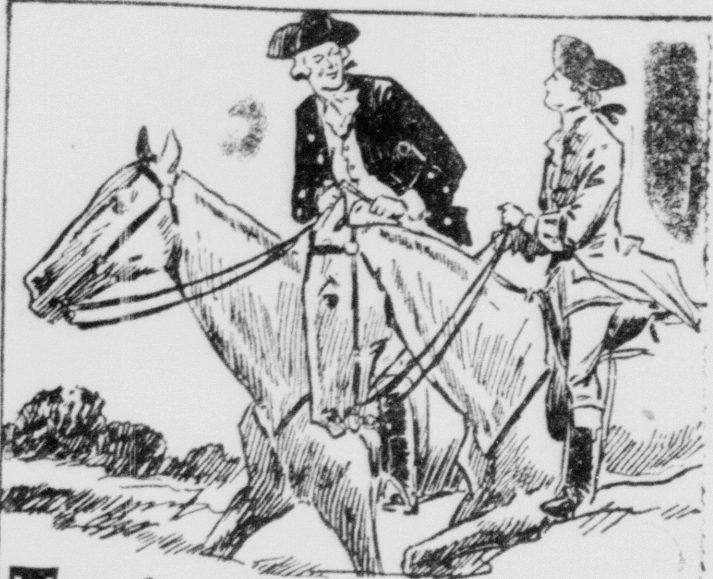

BEAVER FALLS, Feb. 17.—The lone home attraction for the Geneva College basketball squad occurs at the high school gymnasium here Thursday evening of this week.

Coach Baker's Allegheny Methodists appear as the opposition in a game which was originally scheduled for last Thursday. The game was called off at the time at the request of Allegheny officials in view of the fact that the strength of the Allegheny squad had been sapped by an overdose of playing.

Prior to the crushing defeat at the hands of the Westminster Titans the Alleghenies led all Tri-State clubs with an unblemished record. Following many successive victories at the expense of district clubs the Gators continued their string of wins on Eastern Shore. It was at the conclusion of this string that the Titans caught the Methodists well spent and as a result chalked up a one sided triumph. Refreshed by a welcome lavoff the Methodist crew is now back in the form which featured their early season activity.

U. S. Bond List Firm In Stock Market Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The road to higher prices in the stock market this afternoon was blocked by the profit-taking and professional selling which logically follow such a spirited rise as that of the last few days.

United States Steel started the day at 49½, unchanged from Tuesday's close, but the supply of stock was sufficient to force it under 49. American Telephone topped 135 in the first period and fell off about 2 points to 133½. American Can was well bought at 69 and Consolidated

Gas at 65. The rails were steady. Copper stocks made an effort to move up the price scale on the strength of the forthcoming conference on production curtailment and the hope of an increase in consumption.

Chrysler Motor was steady around 13½ in response to the favorable financial and income statement issued after the close of yesterday's market. Though inactive, the U. S. Government Bond list was firm, with fractionally higher prices for the low-coupon treasury issues. The commodity markets were steady, with Cotton up a few points.

RIVALRY GROWS

BY BURT L. STANDISH

Health Is Immense Industry Of Country

"One of the greatest and least known industries in this country is that of health. One item alone in this colossal activity is a three billion dollar investment in hospitals. Again, it has been conservatively estimated that nearly a million and a half people are engaged in the various departments of this vast organized effort. It thus appears that however careless individuals may be regarding this industry, there is an enormous market which demands a service both in material and personnel which ranks with the major industries of the nation. The significance of this fact deserves attention," states Doctor Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health.

"The Committee on the Costs of Medical Care, of which Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, is chairman, has estimated that in money loss alone six billion dollars worth of lives are needlessly sacrificed every year; this can logically be considered as an indictment against the average citizen whose personal interest in his or her own physical welfare is either entirely lacking or decidedly misplaced.

"The United States officially is intensely health-conscious. This fortunate fact has resulted in spectacular successes along the lines of communicable disease control, mass prophylaxis and scientific achievement. In fact, health officials, physicians and allied groups have made a most amazing success of their work. However, they are blocked at the point where the burden shifts from public health problems to personal ones.

"And so the fact remains that, despite the magnificent results, people as a whole are too prone to consider health and disease as an entirely abstract problem until something happens to them personally. It is perfectly safe to say that if it were possible to get the average individual to think and act positively regarding personal health and disease prevention, the market now representing the great demands upon the industry of health could be markedly reduced.

"It would thus appear from the economic standpoint alone, not to mention the unnecessary suffering and premature deaths, that it would be fine business for everyone to pay more attention to such cardinal requirements as adequate sleep, sufficient exercise, proper foods in proper quantities, the avoidance of nerve-wracking and body-devitalizing excesses of all kinds and, in addition, follow the sensible plan of the annual physical examination.

"Until people can somehow be made to realize that health is not provided by the gods, as are the sun, air and moisture, and therefore assume their personal obligation in this important matter by respecting the right living rules, the health industry, gigantic as it is, will of necessity unfortunately be compelled to increase."

Damages Asked By Di Thomas In Car Crash

Suit Against John R. Sickafuse And Louis Bongivengo Is On Trail

The case of Joseph Di Thomas and Felicia Di Thomas, his wife, against John R. Sickafuse of Hickory township, is on trial before Judge R. L. Hildebrand in court today. The case grew out of an automobile accident in which a daughter of the plaintiffs, Margaret Di Thomas, was fatally injured and died in the New Castle hospital. Plaintiffs are asking damages. By a writ of scire facias Louis Bongivengo, driver of the car in which Miss Di Thomas was riding, was brought in as a party defendant to the suit.

FOR WEAK WOMEN

Meadville, Pa.—"About a year ago I was in a very weak condition following an attack of the flu. I did not have much appetite, lost considerable sleep and had that 'all gone' feeling. At times I suffered with pains in my forehead," said Mrs. Cora Johnston of 67 Meade Ave. "A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After taking three bottles it strengthened me, my appetite soon returned, my rest at night was more natural and I felt like a new woman."

"Miss Europe 1932"

Selected from amongst 15 representatives of other European nations, Miss Aase Clausen, a native of Denmark, has been crowned "Miss Europe 1932" at the final of the European beauty contest in Nice, France. Miss Clausen will probably come to the United States this year to compete for the title of "Miss Universe" at the international contest at Galveston, Tex.

Boost for Florida

"Aha, my proud beauty! This snacks of treason. Well, maybe not exactly treason, but California will certainly accuse Colleen Moore, screen star, of disloyalty in forsaking of Los Angeles for a vacation in Palm Beach, Fla. Colleen's abbreviated sailor costume is the latest thing in beach attire.

Innocence Proven

Not everyone could be as magnanimous as Alvernon L. Lytle (above), if given the same cause for a grouch. Lytle has just been released from prison at Lincoln, Neb., after having served 2 years of a 15-year sentence for a crime of which he was innocent. Lytle was found guilty of robbing a bank at Minden, Neb., a crime to which another man has since confessed. On regaining his freedom Lytle declared he had "no hard feelings."

Frances Brest, 5, 525 Bell avenue; measles.

Report Suicide Is Identified

Burial Of Man Who Ended Life Here Not As Yet Arranged For

Coroner Orville Potter stated today that late Tuesday afternoon, friends from Youngstown appeared at the Burke Funeral Home here and identified the body of the suicide of Sunday evening as that of George Robins, Hemrod avenue, Youngstown. They stated that they were seeking money with which to arrange for the proper burial of their friend whom it appears is without immediate relatives, at least in Youngstown. No funeral arrangements have as yet been made.

Robbery Occurs At Sampson Street Plant Last Night

Report was made this morning to the police that the plant of the New Castle Metal Products Company on Sampson street, had been entered during the night. Tools from the plant and an adding machine from the office were missing. Officers found the missing tools in a bag in a shed at the rear of the plant. The adding machine has not yet been found.

Dissatisfied With Property Valuations

Sixth ward property owners have presented a petition to the county commissioners in which they object to the valuations placed upon their properties at the last triennial assessment. They claim that whereas property values have decreased, valuations have been jumped up. They ask that millage be assessed on the previous triennial assessment. The county commissioners advised that they would have to take the matter up with their attorney.

No Definite Date Set For Election

However Council In Favor Of Retaining Inspector Dunlap

It is not known exactly when council will formally elect Harold Dunlap to the position as inspector of plumbing for the city although council recently went on record as favoring his retention. Councilman Davies developed the fact he desired to retain Dunlap and the motion to that effect was made by Councilman Genkinger. Mayor Mayne said he was in favor of Mr. Dunlap but desired a written opinion from the solicitor as to who had the authority of the appointment. It is understood the opinion has been delivered and it is probable that the reelection of Dunlap may be brought up at an early council session.
